Council To Fill Library Vacancy

Place Left Open Owing To Death Of Late Postmaster J. C. Norris

Within the near future members of city council will make an appointment to fill the vacancy on the library board caused by the death of the late postmaster, J. C. Norris.

Mr. Norris served as treasurer. Councilmen stated today that so far they have not given the vacancy thought until today. They said that they had not decided upon any particular person.

Having an unrented room is like being out of a job. Your income does not start until you get a tenant. Every day the room is empty means money lost. Rent the room immediately through a Classified ad. It is economy to advertise vacancies. It means a big saving in the end.

Jailer's Wife Foils Escape

(International News Service)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 22.—Claiming to have established a record as a jail breaker, Howard Wyer, held here on an indictment for murder in Webster county, today boasted that 26 jails in the past five years had failed to hold him.

His record would have been even more impressive, Wyer said, but the wife of the jailer of Webster county jail detected him in the act of wriggling through a hole in the wall after having spread soap over his body to aid him. The woman promptly doused him with scalding water, he said, and he gave up the attempt.

Police Say Girl Was Of Flapper Type—Dead Several Days

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—The body of a pretty girl of the flapper type, suspected by police of being the victim of foul play, was discovered today on a plot of ground off Baker street, West Roxbury.

The girl was between 20 and 23 years old and had been dead three or four days.

Medical Examiner Timothy Leary was immediately summoned.

Discovery Made

The gruesome discovery was made by two boys—Lewis Jesso and Earl Nickerson, both 12 years old.

They told their parents of their find and the mother of one of the lads immediately notified the police.

The police description of the girl follows: dark bobbed hair, blue suit, short dark coat, a girl of "the flapper type".

The body apparently had been partly buried in the snow, but the January thaw had removed most of the snow from the body, exposing it to view.

Youth Is Killed, Three Injured In Plunge Of Auto

Machine Plunges Down 25-Foot Embankment Near Homestead, Pa.

(International News Service)

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Jan. 22.—One youth was killed and three persons, including two women, were injured today when the automobile in which they were riding went over a 25-foot embankment near here and overturned, according to authorities.

George Clows, 18, of Duquesne, the driver, was instantly killed. He was pinioned under the car. His skull was fractured and his arms and legs were broken.

Miss Glenda Dattorm, 18, of Duquesne, was the most seriously injured and was taken to a local hospital where it was said she had a fractured arm and leg.

George Cole, 18, and Miss Thelma Johnson, 18, Kennywood Park, suffered cuts and bruises and were taken to their homes.

According to Cole, Clows lost control of the car on the way home and it skidded off the road over the embankment.

Lower Valley Under Water Along Rivers

Mahoning And Beaver Rivers Are At Flood Stage South Of City

Mahoning and Beaver rivers are at flood stage, but have not yet done any serious damage, according to County Commissioner Davis. Much of the lowland between the Seventh ward and Wampum is now under water. The site of the old road, west of the site of the old covered bridge at Mahoningtown is under water, but the new road, which was raised several feet, is alright.

Assistant County Superintendent C. F. Ball reports that there is an automobile in the water near the foot of the Pitzer hill. It had evidently left the road during the fog last night and is completely surrounded by several feet of water. It is not known to whom it belongs or how the occupants escaped.

Another Man Enters Peaches Browning Case

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—There is "another man" in the Browning case, "Peaches" Heenan Browning admitted today, but he is not the wealthy banker, her husband Edward West Browning charged that his detectives had found easing the memory of marriage from the child-bride's heart.

Piqued, "Peaches," said today: "The millionaire banker my husband refers to as his rival is Joseph Morris, a bank clerk. I knew Joseph long before I meet Mr. Browning. It was he who took me to the dance at the Hotel McAlphin on the night I was introduced to Mr. Browning."

But the youthful bank clerk has not entered her heart to the extent her husband, the "Cinderella Man," charges, asserts "Peaches."

"Joe Morris is nothing more than a boy friend to me," Peaches said.

Cold Weather To Check Rise Of Local Streams

Shenango River Is Three Feet Under Flood Stage, Says Moseley

WEATHER REPORT SAYS MUCH COLDER

No Warnings Are Issued From Points North On Shenango River

Although the reports of J. L. Moseley of this city, who takes daily records of the rise and fall of water in the Shenango river and Mr. Hotchkiss, in charge of the local branch of the United States Weather Bureau, indicate today that the Shenango river has risen about a foot since Friday afternoon and is still rising, there is believed to be no danger of flood conditions here.

Promised colder weather conditions will afford the needed relief from the rising water conditions and will prevent the water rising to dangerous heights.

Three Feet Under Floor Stage

According to Mr. Moseley, the water of the Shenango river is still at least three feet under what is termed flood conditions, the water being nine feet deep in the center of the channel this morning.

It had started to fall yesterday but the continued rain of last night and melting of the vast amount of snow and ice in the districts north of the city, caused it to rise again in the past twent-four hours.

No Warnings

That it is not felt that there is any serious danger of flood conditions along the Shenango river is indicated according to Mr. Moseley by the fact that no warning has been issued by the waterways commission engineers stationed at Linesville. Such warning would have been sent to Mr. Moseley if a flood was feared.

The Neshannock river has also risen to a considerable extent in the past twenty-four hours, but it is felt that the cooler weather conditions promised and now indicated, will prevent it reaching a serious stage.

River Rises Foot

According to Mr. Hotchkiss, the rainfall in the past twenty-four hours was .47 of an inch and the total rainfall for the first twenty-

Parking Space Is Badly Needed At The Court House

Movement On Foot To Use Court House Lawn, North Of Court House, For Cars

A movement is on foot to convert the open space between the court house and court street, on the north side of the court house, into a parking ground for automobiles. There is about sixty feet of space that could be used for this purpose. If it were cemented it would make an excellent parking ground, and relieved the congestion on Court street.

When court is in session automobiles are usually parked all the way from the court house to Milton street, and when that space is filled, motorists, have to go around on Milton street. This is a very narrow street, and when machines are parked on both sides, as is often the case it is hard to get through. Attorneys and others who frequent the court house believe that the court house lawn would make a good parking ground and greatly relieve the situation. Many jurors and witnesses, who formerly remained in the city during court terms, now drive back and forth to their homes, and are seriously inconvenienced in finding suitable parking place. It is probable that the proposition to use the court house lawn will be brought to the attention of the county commissioners at an early date.

Noted English Beauty Moves To Rome

When Miss Paula Gellibrand, of London was presented at court two years ago, she was acclaimed as the most beautiful deb who had been so honored since the war. She made her bow in 1925, and from the moment of her entry into the social activities of Mayfair she was extremely popular. Then she met the Marquis de Casa Maury, of Rome, veteran of the World war, sportsman and man of the world, and, after a short courtship they were married. A long cruise on the yacht "Fantome" was their honeymoon; then a short visit in London, and now the Marquise de Casa Maury holds forth in Rome, where she is as popular a matron as she was a deb in London. This is her newest photo.

POLICE GET MANY CALLS

Suspected Burglar Is Reported In Numerous Sections Of City

Calls were numerous from all parts of the city last night at the police station from residents, who believed that they had seen the burglar of a few nights ago in their respective districts.

The police answered all such calls but came back in each instance empty handed, as the man seen, if the man wanted, had made good his escape before the officers arrived.

All available extra men of the department, are being kept in the outlying districts of the city, especially in the North Hill and East Side districts on a still hunt to capture the burglar, should he appear on the scene.

So far this special patroling duty has been without result.

Many Reports Of Flooded Conditions In Ohio River Watershed Area

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—With the swollen waters of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers steadily rising at Point Bridge here, where the two rivers meet to form the Ohio river, workmen on construction jobs in the Golden Triangle, the heart of Pittsburgh's business district, were forced to suspend work today as sewers backed up, flooding the excavations.

Police roped off sections of streets near the new $10,000,000 Stanley theater building, under construction, fearing that the street was unsafe.

Tracks of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads along the Allegheny river were inundated for nearly ten blocks, and officials at the Baltimore & Ohio freight station reported five feet of water on the first floor of the building on the riverfront.

RIOTS OCCUR IN SHANGHAI

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 22.—Serious rioting broke out in Shanghai today. Several shots were fired as the rioters clashed with the emergency police. The situation at Hankow was more serious than ever, according to private messages from there.

All British and American citizens were reported evacuating the city. Missionaries and foreign traders continue to evacuate the provinces along the upper Yangste river.

The rioting was precipitated by hostile demonstrations by the striking tramway men.

Nanking road, the Fifth avenue of Shanghai, from the Bund to Chekiang road, which takes in the principal shopping and business districts, was filled with a seething, riotous mass of Chinese with whom the police battle to restore order.

Dense Fog Last Night Made Driving Of Auto Most Hazardous Task

We never have had the experience of sailing through a blank of clouds in an airplane but we can imagine something of what it would be like after a trip by auto through the fog of last night. "So thick that you could cut it with a knife." Yes, and we think it would soon have dulled a very sharp knife.

For motorists found last night that the fog rising from the thawing earth made driving almost impossible. When the lights were thrown on the roadway the banks of fog clouds reflected the light back against the driver so that it seemed that he was driving right into a bank of snow.

Sometimes a breeze would spring up only to pack the fog into thicker clouds and the slightly clearer spaces in between just encouraged one to plunge into an even thicker bank of clouds.

One really could drive better without lights as the outline of the road could not be distinguished with the lights while without lights it could be seen. But one did not dare to drive without for fear someone else might try the same stunt and a collision would result.

The heavy rain falling part of the time made it more unpleasant driving, one would think it would have washed the fog from the air but it only seemed to give more water to make more steam. So all we could do was feel our way along, look out for the other fellow and watch the curves.

The newer roads with the line in the middle was the best kind to negotiate for one could keep the wheel just along the side of this line and thus know that he was neither trespassing on the wrong side neither was he near the ditch. But deliver us from another such experience as last night. Let us have it cold again even if it brings along ice with it.

Westminster College Faculty Selects Captain For Basketball Team

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 22.—President W. C. Wallace, of Westminster, announced today that the faculty had named Hugh Gamble of Sharon, captain of the Westminster College basketball team for the season. Gamble is a senior. Resulting from the fact that there are no letter men on the team this year, the matter of selecting a captain was up to the faculty.

Westminster basketball enthusiasm is rampant this season, as a result of the team turning in six victories out of seven contests to date.

State Highways Clogged By Ice And High Water

Susquehanna Trail And William Penn Highway Traffic Stopped

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—Both the Susquehanna Trail and the William Penn Highway were closed fifteen miles north of here today by ice and water from the Susquehanna and Juniata Rivers. Motor patrolmen were routing traffic that must reach Harrisburg from the north and west by the way of Newport, New Bloomfield and Carlisle.

The ice on both the Susquehanna and Juniata Rivers has broken at a number of places north and west but is still holding near this city. Ice gorges resulting from the partial movements are holding back the water and flooding sections usually immune from high water.

The road at the west end of the Clark's Ferry bridge was jammed with traffic attempting to pass east and south. A subway under the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Juniata bridge was flooded, closing a supplementary road which reaches this city.

The local weather bureau predicted continued warm weather today, but possibly colder tomorrow. The bureau, however, said that the ice here will not break at once despite the rising water.

Movement of the ice on the northern reaches of the river will continue to cause rising water until it is broken up here, it was said.

COLD WEATHER TO CHECK RISE TO LOCAL STREAMS

two days of the present month was 2.57 inches as compared with 1:49 inches in the same period last year. The rise in the river during the past twenty-four hours according to Mr. Hotchkiss was one foot. It is within three inches of the height that it was last November. It will have to raise six feet more before the water company would find it necessary to cease pumping.

COURT ROOM, Austin, Tex., Jan. 22.—Prosecutors in the murder trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris today began a strenuous rebuttal attack on the defense testimony.

Sam Sayters, special prosecutor, read the grand jury testimony of Mrs. Fannie Greer, telephone operator at the hotel where Chipps lived. The grand jury record, as read, contradicted the woman's testimony on the witness stand here earlier in the week, that she heard D. E. Chipps threaten Norris in a telephone conversation shortly before the killing of the lumberman.

She told the grand jury, according to the record, that Chipps did not threaten Norris and was sober when he left the hotel for the church.

Make Great Record At Wesley Church

Nine Members Of Sunday School To Get Awards For 6 Year's Perfect Attendance

Nine members of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal Sunday school will receive the sixth year bar on their pins which signifies that they have had a perfect attendance at Sunday school for a period of six years. This is a record that would be hard to equal.

Besides the nine that have not missed a day for six years, there are 7 who have not missed for 5 years, 1 for 4 years, 2 for 3 years, 6 for 2 years and 8 for 1 year, thus making a total of 33 who have not missed a day during the year 1926.

At the session of Sunday school tomorrow, January 23, these 33 members will receive certificates, pins, wreathes and bars for perfect attendance according to the number of years that they have secured this honor. Those who have a record are as follows:

Six years—Mr. Cox, Mr. Patterson, Mrs. Patterson, Joe Patterson, Anna Patterson, Mrs. Driver, William Driver, Clela Fleming and Margaret Robinson.

Five years—Myrtle Cox, Mrs. Cox, Mr. Cox, Thomas Grittie, Edcie Hilyard, Mr. Driver and Geneva Fleming.

Four years—Rose Hillers.

Three years—Daddy Botham and Clara A. Rech.

Two years—Mrs. Schoaf, Betty Atkinson, Herman Kitchen, William Fraily, Lynn White and Elizabeth Morgan.

One year—Billy Atkinson, William Morgan, Russel Goshorn, Louise Birt, Margaret Chill, Mr. Faller, Jane Morgan and Helen Cox.

Plays In Latin And French Given By Junior High School

Pupils Present Clever Productions At Ben Franklin On Friday

Three little plays, one given in the French language and one in the Latin were the features of the Friday assembly at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school.

The French play under the direction of the French teacher, Miss Louise Dickson, was entitled "La Surprise D'Isidore" and was a three act comedy. The scene was in the office of a doctor of an insane asylum. While the doctor is out his friend calls at the office and is taken for an inmate of the asylum. A general mixup follows in which every one takes every one else to be insane. And although one might not have understood the French, one could get along very well by the motions like at a grand opera.

The cast for the French play was Isidore—Dominick Isolda; Jeanne—Carrie Gibbons; Adolphe, David Forest; Madame Duval—Ethel Keck; Suzanne—Dorothy Kinney.

Of the two Latin plays, the one given in the Latin was directed by Miss Elizabeth Beeler, teacher of Latin. The plot of the play "In Gallia" was the presence of two American boys in a French restaurant endeavoring to make their wants known to a French waitress. One boy knew no Latin but finally through the efofrts of the other boy who knew Latin they were able to make their wants known.

Those who took part in this play were Floyd Fennel, Harry Wyman and Martha McCreary.

The other Latin play was given in English and under the title "Perseus the Dutiful Son" pictured Perseus and his mother cast on an isle in the sea and Perseus is sent by the king to kill the Medusa.

Those who took part in this play were:—Polydectes—James Smith; Danae, mother of Perseus—Helen Weingartner; Perseus—Charles Frank; Two Courtiers—Franklin Russler and Catherin Hopper; Apolo—Henry Mortimer; Minerva—Norma Smith. Three Graces—Ethel Dennison, Marion Gennaula and Ethel Eckert. The introduction was given by Jean Remley. This play was under the direction of C. W. Wick, instructor of Latin.

The program for the assembly was as follows:—

Song by the School—I Love to Tell the Story.

French Play—La Surprise D' Isidore.

Song by School—Long, Long Ago.

Latin Play—In Gallia.

Song—Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes.

French Song—Two popular songs translated and sung in French.

Orchestra.

Latin Play—Perseus, the Dutiful Son.

Cat's A Kitten For Eight Months

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Another question of international concern has been settled in the capital.

Here is it:

"When is a kitten a cat?"

Here is the answer:

"When she is eight months old."

The great minds of the Washington cat show pondered diligently over the momentous question of just when a feline leaves kittenhood and enters catdom. Then they settled it.

Now, run along pussy, and have a good time.

THREE SLIGHT AUTO ACCIDENTS ARE REPORTED

Some Damage To Cars Is Reported To Police By Auto Drivers

Three slight accidents were reported to the police Friday afternoon and evening.

L. A. Fuller of 125 Hillcrest avenue, reported that he was driving south on Mill street and had stopped to await the green light at North street, when as he started up, a car following his machine and bearing license 372-058 and driven by a man named Toler, struck his machine in the rear doing some damage.

John B. Thorson, 426 Fairmont avenue, reported Friday that he was driving west on East Washington street at the Pennsylvania crossing, when a street car No. 357, William Andiell, operator stopped for about two minutes. He stopped in the rear of the street car and finally drove out from behind and around the street car, which started up at the same time, striking the rear of his car, and did slight damage.

Three cars were involved in a smashup at Lutton and Williams streets Friday afternoon, when the car of Harold McClurg is said to have struck the machine of a Mrs. Reed forcing her machine into the rear of a truck of the Penn Coal & Supply company which was being driven east on Lutton street by Carl Lutton, driver of the truck. Some damage was done.

PITTSBURGH IS FEELING EFFECT OF HIGH WATERS

Bridge to 27.6 feet, well over the flood danger mark. There is no indication of letup in the steadily rising tide, weather forecasters said.

Residents of five streets in the Northside district were forced to move their household goods from the lower floor of their dwellings, police reported, and in several localities boats are being used for transportation.

At Rochester

Rochester, Pa., Jan. 22.—Slowly rising waters of the Ohio river here approached within three feet of overflowing its banks here today, causing apprehension among residents on the river front. There is no immediate danger, it was reported.

On Rampage

Steubenville, O., Jan. 22.—The Ohio river, on a rampage as flood waters threatened property on the riverfront, is dangerously near to overflowing here today. No damage has been reported as yet.

At 33 Feet Stage

East Liverpool, O., Jan. 22.—The rampaging Ohio river reached flood stage of 33 feet here today and was rising at the rate of .03 of a foot an hour, with predictions that it would reach the 37 or 38 foot level.

Residents of the lowlands near Smith's Ferry, were fleeing their homes as the waters neared a height which will cause the section to be inundated.

Many other families at Wellsville, O., and Congo, W. Va., abandoned their homes during the night as the flood gradually crept toward them.

An all night rain increased fears here that a landslide on Pennsylvania avenue hill might occur at any moment, sweeping the main double track car line and two potteries into the river.

A fissure 300 feet in length has appeared at the top of the hill and a slow movement of the earth recorded today by city engineers.

Plants Affected

Brownsville, Pa., Jan. 22.—Several thousand employes in coke plants were forced to suspend operations because Lock No. 3 on the Monongahela river was inundated by flood waters, making it impossible to make coke shipments on the river.

A large number of plants in the district depend directly on the river for shipments, carrying coke from their plants to boats by conveyors. Two plants of the H. C. Frick Coke Company depend entirely upon river boats to ship their products, using the belt conveyor system.

The water today reached a 32.5 feet level, three feet over the river locks. Water reached the business district of the city, flooding the basements of several stores. Heavy rains were reported over the entire district, with no indication that the river would cease its slow rise.

At Morgantown

Morgantown, W. Va., Jan. 22—Flood waters of the Monongahela river here today overflowed the river banks and swept over the Scotts Run highway, one of northern West Virginia's main traffic arteries.

Vehicular traffic was at a standstill in the flood area, passenger busses being forced to detour several miles to other highways. The extent of property damage was not estimated.

At Wheeling

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 22—With the Ohio river standing at 34 feet and rising steadily, flood waters were expected to reach the 36 feet danger point late today. Streetcar traffic in West Wheeling was held up early today by flood waters which covered the track.

Accosts Woman On Hutchison Street

Police Search District But Fail To Find Man Suspected

While walking along Hutchison street between Walnut street and her home, late last night, Miss Clara Freshwater, 417 Hutchison street, a teacher in the Oak Street school, was accosted by a man which in many ways tallies with the description of the burglar at the Lusk and other homes of the city earlier in the week, according to the police authorities.

The man grabbed her and as he did so, placed one of his hands over her mouth, so as to prevent any possible outcry on the part of Miss Freshwater.

Miss Freshwater struggled valiantly to free herself and was thrown to the ground by the man sustaining slight injuries on the left side.

The incident occured nearly under an electric light and when he had thrown Miss Freshwater to the ground, the man ran away. Miss Freshwater who was enroute home from attending a party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Zerner, spread the alarm and the police were notified and searched the district but were unable to find the man.

Miss Freshwater describes the man as being about six feet tall, dark complexioned, smooth shaven and wearing a cap and a light overcoat.

Standard Tank Car Company Under New Management Today

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., Jan. 22.—Announcement was made here today of the passing of control of the Standard Tank Car Company here from the Keith Car and Manufacturing Company, Sagamore, Mass., to the General American Tank Car Corporation, Chicago, the largest tank car builders in the country.

Officers and directors are: Samuel Laud, Chicago; vice president and secretary; George H. Fleming, Sharon, vice president and treasurer; H. E. Coyl, Sharon, vice president; Robert R. Dunn, Chicago, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer; W. E. Robinson, Pittsburg; H. C. Rorick, Toledo, and Oscar Blumenthal, Chicago. For the present the office of president will be left open.

No major changes are contemplated by the new interests, the same policy and work being carried on as at present. Officials said however, that prospects for future business were bright, several new orders being booked in the past few weeks which will keep the plant working steadily for several months.

The new officials are now working on the financial situation of the company, which is admittedly in poor condition, and will give out figures and other financial information within the next few weeks.

Spalding Enthuses Local Music Lovers

Wonderful Program Is Presented By Noted Violinist Friday Evening

There are violinists and violinists, and then Albert Spalding. New Castle has had a lot of them, and last night had Spalding. Which is equivalent to saying that we had one of the world's master craftsmen.

Spalding appeared in the senior high school auditorium under the auspices of the Educational Art society and for the bringing here of this best of all American violinists LaVerne Irvine can feel justly proud.

First of all Spalding is a master of technique. But with his remarkable technique he has a verve that can only come from the soul of a genuine artist. Somehow one imagines that his violin is people by a thousand little musical elves who respond to his touch with a flow of harmony that holds one in his seat in a sort of trance.

Fingering, bowing, trilling, double stopping or pizzicattos, of all of them he is the master and yet he does his work so thoroughly artistically that he makes it seem ridiculously easy.

His program was not too long, but a difficult one withal. He opened with "The Devil's Trill" by Tartini, in itself a test of musicianship and yet he seemed to toy with it. His second number was Mendelssohn's Concerto in E Minor, Opus 64. You have heard other violinists play this undoubtedly, but it is doubtful if you ever heard such a likeable interpretation.

His last two groups were of a lighter nature, to which he added several encores. It was a wonderful evening, one to be remembered and cherished as a high spot, one that was appreciated not alone by musicians, but by the layman as well.

The accompaniments were played by Andre Benoist, and this gentleman, retiring though he was, added no small part to the success of the evening.

The crowd numbered about 900.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 22.—Alma Cole, 20, of Tower Hill, near here, suffered cuts and bruises, and five companions narrowly escaped injury early today when a taxicab driven by Floyd Lawrence of Brownsville, overturned on the state road near here.

Lawrence's view of the road was obscured by a fog, he told police. The girl was taken to Brownsville hospital, where she was reported suffering from shock.

Boy's Bible Classes Enrol Over Hundred

The Y. M. C. A. Boy's Bible Classes are having a highly successful year. Around a hundred boys are enrolled in the five classes.

The two Junior B. "Pioneer" classes are directed by Robert Meermans and John Leonard. Mr. Meermans, James Blanning, and John Leonard are the leaders of the three midget "Friendly Indian" classes.

Each class has its own organization and officers. A high class efficiency is shown by the boys as they develop spiritually and mentally.

Lumber Company Wins On Mechanic's Lien

In the case of the Circle Lumber Company against Mrs. Hilda Lundgren of Ellwood City, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $2744.85, the full amount of the claim, with interest. The suit was based on a mechanic's lien for the construction of a house in Ellwood City. The defendant fought the case on the grounds that notice of the filing of the lien had not been properly given.

Social Time At Review Meeting

New Castle Review No. 89 held their regular meeting Friday evening in the Sons of Veteran Hall with about forty in attendance.

After the regular business meeting a social time was enjoyed. A number of vocal solos were rendered by the pianist.

The next meeting will take place February 4, at which time a number of imoprtant business transactions will take place.

SCRUBBING CITY STREETS

ANNOUNCEMENT made from city hall yesterday by the head of the city street department, Mr. Genkinger, that the downtown streets would be given a thorough cleaning at the present time by the use of hose and water, and a scrubbing process at night, was one that will find welcome responsive echo on the part of citizens.

The mild weather of the past few days gives opportunity for cleaning the streets in this manner, and it is a move that will not only be an aid to health conditions, but one that will greatly improve appearance of streets.

We believe that night scrubbing of the business streets is the only plan that can be followed with much success now-a-days in cleaning the much travelled streets. There are so many autos parked along the streets during the day time that it is almost impossible for the street cleaners to do anything like an effective job of cleaning with broom and shovel.

It is realized that there may not be another chance during the winter to flush the streets, but the statement of the street department head that the plan of flushing the streets regularly at night during the coming summer is one that will meet with hearty approbation.

ANONYMOUS LETTER WRITERS

NEW CASTLE is suffering from another outbreak of anonymous letter writing critics.

At least receipt of anonymous letters at The News, and at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters would indicate such a condition.

It has for many years been the policy of The News not to print anonymous communications, and to pay no attention to them. The News is glad to receive expressions of sentiment on the part of its readers, when the latter are properly signed. Such letters are given every consideration.

Likewise we have it from the Chamber of Commerce that all letters received, which are signed with a correct name and address are given careful consideration merited.

It is natural that there should be differences of opinion on many matters in a community as large as New Castle and Lawrence county. It is not to be expected that a condition would prevail where all would be of the identical opinion.

Oftentimes letters of opinion are of much consequence, when given in the right spirit and by a person who gives evidence of good faith in the matter by signing name and address.

But the anonymous complaint, usually, is found to be one tainted with selfishness and without much basis.

The community at large has less use for the anonymous letter writer than The News or the Chamber of Commerce, we believe.

TIMBER RESOURCES

THIS country, with the largest per capita lumber consumption of all industrial nations, consumes annually more than a third of all wood marketed in the world. Each year the United States consumes more timber than it grows, the deficit being drawn from virgin timber, the supply of which is reduced annually by 2½ per cent.

Thus the problem of conservation narrows down to inaugurating a "sustained yield practice" or reforestation by private owners on a scale equal to the deforestation. There seems to be a growing realization of this fact among timber operators.

Since 1922, for instance, about 70 per cent of the lumber production of the entire redwood region in California has been under such practice. In Oregon and Washington forestry work is going forward satisfactorily, Pennsylvania is planting millions of trees annually with public and private funds and New York state already has requests for 9,000,000 trees for planting this year.

It is supposed the government makes reforestation one of the conditions of its sale of two tracts of Alaskan timber, each embracing more than 5,000,000,000 board feet of pulpwood, for the manufacture of paper. The timber is to be sold to foster an Alaskan paper industry that will compete with Canadian and Newfoundland mills to the advantage of American consumers, so there is no opposition to the cutting of the timber. In fact, utilization of forests and conversion of this natural resource into commercial products and buildings are unavoidable. But reforestation must keep pace with this necessary deforestation or the time will come when there will be no more trees to cut.

TWO JOBS

"So you've finished with school, my boy!" said he.
"Eighteen years old, and as bright as can be.
Well, just for a moment, now listen to me.

"You're starting out in the world, my son,
Eager, and clean and true,
But here is a thought to dwell upon:
There are just two jobs for you.
And now you must make up your mind which one
Of them you will choose to do.

"One calls for eight hours' work each day
And weary will you be,
But it will give you some time for play,
Your sweetheart you may see,
And many an evening you may stay
With your mother and with me.

"And when the day of labor ends
And homeward you have turned,
You may walk the street with your laughing friends
By no one scorned or spurned,
And be proud that you are a man who spends
Only what he has earned.

"Now the other job pays no such rate
Of wages. Think this o'er!
Who chooses the laws to violate
On a cold and cheerless floor
Will work his life out for the state
Behind a bolted door.

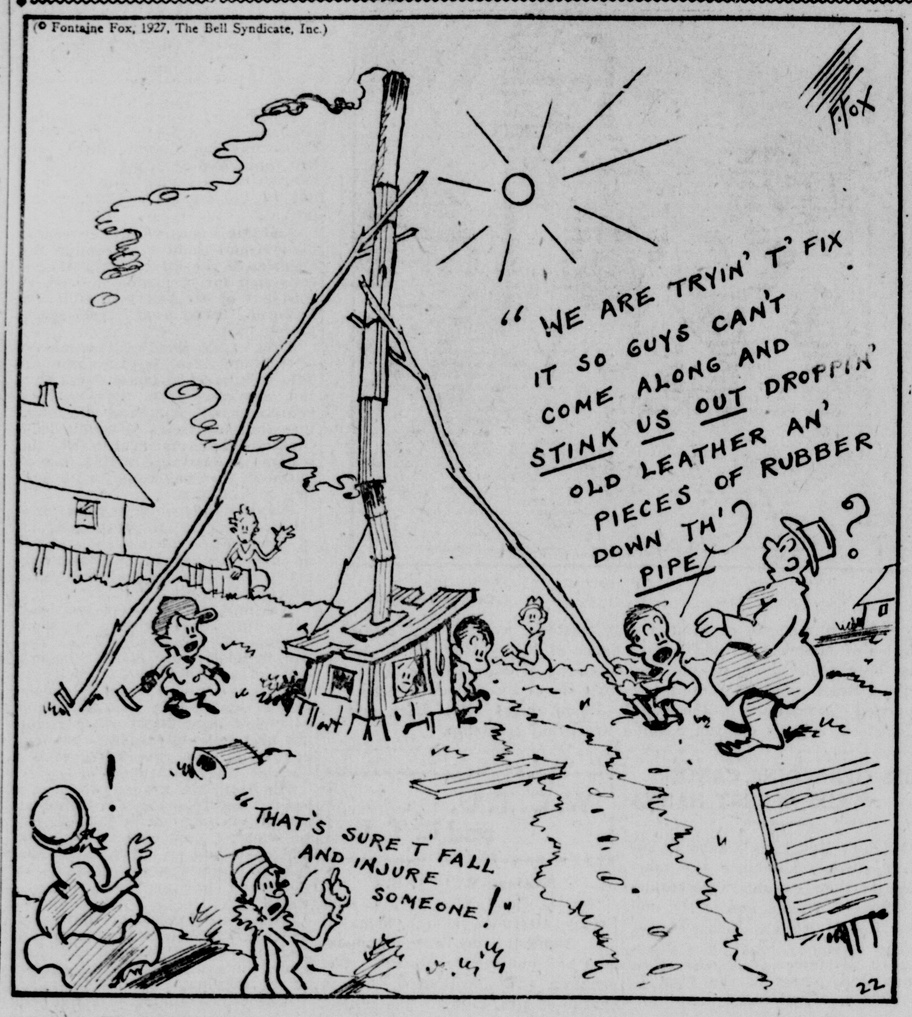

"Never a friend will find his place
And never a joy be had,
Never he'll look on his sweetheart's face,
And never an hour be glad,
And never an evening he'll speak a grace
With his mother and his dad.

"That's all and now for your own soul's sake
Think it all out ere the choice you make,
Which job of the two is the one to take?"

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:06. Sun rises tomorrow 7:17.

Burglars would have a fat chance in New Castle just now. Most all the women sit up in bed when they hear a bit of noise and yell for the police when they hear the least sound at night now. Everybody is listening and watching, and the women seem to be the ones who tackle the burglars, while the men are in bed—or maybe under it.

There are people who get jobs because they know the man who hires them and there are others who get jobs because the man who hires them does not know them.

When mother asked sister if she knew dad's whereabouts, she said she saw the maid put 'em in the wash.

A New York man does not want to pay his wife alimony because she put caustic acid in all of his pre-prohibition liquors. That is about the very worst thing a wife can do these days. Pre-prohibition stuff is mighty rare and even wives are not allowed near it often.

Winter is a time when parents decide the baby doesn't really need a drink of water at 2 a. m.

Gov. Fisher says he will not try to dictate to the legislature and will not bawl it out when he makes a personal appearance before it. He is going to stay in his office and attend to the duties of governor, just as the people want him to do.

Mother always says "I've a notion", which pap says he has discovered is something entirely different from an idea.

We asked a fat man weighing over 300 pounds what his diet consisted of and he said "Kraut, dumplings, buckwheat cakes, roast beef, pork stew, etc., and a great deal of etc." He sure looked the part and even more so when he added mince pie to the list.

If it were not for the boy choirs some men would go through their lives without ever going to church.

After you read about the difficulties that 17-year-old boy had to fight before he got to California so he could get into the Catalina swimming match you can see what a determination to get there will do when properly applied. He almost walked to get into the swim and now he is swimming around in cream.

Another anonymous letter writing spasm has struck some birds in this town. Since we have become president of the Chamber of Commerce our anonymous letters have doubled in number. If we had a grievance against the city we would go there personally and state our case and would not write an anonymous letter to any one who had no authority in the matter. The anonymous letter writer must have a wonderful life. Seems to us he would feel very much like a sneak.

Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow there may be a law against it.

Local police say a man from Youngstown was arrested and put into the lockup and he spent the entire night praying and yelling and no one within a block could sleep. Yes, he was crazy.

A Florida woman tried to kill herself by turning the gas on in the kitchen and closing all the doors and windows because she was getting too fat. She only weighed 180. Some ladies do resent taking on pork.

A New Jersey court has ruled that a man has a legal right to rule his home. Yes, and he also has the legal right to call Jack Dempsey a big bum.

A kitchenette is a place where the domestic science graduates open tin cans.

Flaming youth: "Is my nose shiny, dearie?" No, but your right knee is dusty."

I duly recd today your telegram which same was sent by you yesterday and which was refused by me on account you sent same collect. The delay is the fault of the telegraph company on account it took them till today to get the charges from you.

As regards where you say in same will I expose for your readers an esasy on the article which was in your Hints & Splints column Thurs on the Chamber of Commerce where it says there is in the same only 228 members would say in reply that I did not read the article on account I seen right away you did not write the same and the grammar used in the same could not be understood by me on account of being high hat. If the same had been wrote by you there would have been grammar in the same as regards bozos birds ginks etcettra and other remarks which cause high hat people to squirm when reading the same.

Also if I had have read the article I would say that if the Chamber of Commerce has 228 members it has the usual percentage. There is over 10 thousand families in your fare city & 228 members is one member for every 44 families. What more do you want. I have noticed where I have some special home made root beer it is no trick to have the neighbors in & for every 43 which is anxious to push into the trough & absorb large samples there is usually only one which offers to be a paying guest.

Also the 43 has large remarks to offer as regards improving the brand & only the one which wants to be the paying guest is satisfied with the sample.

Anyhow I didnt have the time to spare to look into the thing on account I been busy experimenting with some stewed horse radish bushes coal tax etcettera which was mentioned to me by one of the innocent clients of G Muse. I dont know how this will come out yet on account the first match boiled over the top while I was answering the telephone & the kettle & all burned up & almost ruined my shop in my garage basement where the same was cooking.

Anyhow come out some time but you know why you should leave Jake behind.

So long Joe Bulger.

Our Lawyers Don't Sing.

Lawsuits are settled by an old method among some of the remoter tribes of Eskimos. When two natives have had a dispute each collects his family and friends to assist him in settling it. The parties meet at an agreed time in the biggest hut in the village, and literally sing at each other.

The plaintiff's party chants a series of rough verses insulting the defendant and everything that is his. Then comes the rivals' turn, and for the next hour or so they sing at the enemy, putting their insults into some sort of meter.

The old men of the village act as judge and jury, and the verdict is given to the side which, in the opinion of the aged experts, has composed the largest amount of insult into the best verse and the most noise.

It is estimated that there are now in this country one auto for every five persons. The great pedestrian army is rapidly being reduced in numbers.

PREACHER'S STRONG HINT

"A Hearse Is a Poor Vehicle to Come to Church In—Why Wait?" This sign on the bulletin board of the St. Andrews United Brethren church of Des Moines started the congregation talking—and going to church.

Among other things that Mrs. Chaplin is predicting for the dear husband Chas. is that he will be in jail if he doesn't comply promptly with the financial demands she makes on him. Most people are beginning to think Charley has more money than he has brains.

The state police force is going to be used in the future for which it was originally intended, the protecting of the lives and property of the citizens of Pennsylvania. During the past four years their orders have been exclusively to watch out for any person taking a drink and no matter what other crimes are committed go after the boozer. Sure they should try to enforce all the laws and that is what they are going to do hereafter instead of being specialists.

Some girls complain that the scales must be wrong, while others take it philosophically and say "I don't care—some boys like 'em fat."

A man should never do anything by halves, except when he eats grape fruit, perhaps.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE

—The best calling cards are four aces.
—When spreading your coat for a lady to sit upon, always remember to first take it off.
—It is possible to be a gentleman at all times—even in a Ford coupe.

Some persons' opposition to crime goes further than strenuous insistence that the newspapers refrain from publishing crime news. In other words, murder is not half so bad if we never hear of it.

The final test of personality is the ability to hold listeners while you tell about your golf.

Throwing heavy alimony checks isn't going to appear nearly as funny to Charlie Chaplin as tossing custard pies over his head.

Young women and their chaperons are now allowed to smoke between dances at West Point. Thus the cadets will be permitted to smell smoke even in this pacific age.

It usually happens that the man with money to burn usually freezes onto all he can.

Ground Hog day is the next day to look forward to. But even the banks don't declare it a holiday.

Every man who ever took his oath of office as governor pledged economy in his inaugural and in this respect Governor Fisher is no exception. But we have faith that Governor Fisher will live up to his pledges and give us an economical administration.

Enthusiasts of the five-day week idea would probably kick like Sam Hill if purchasing accommodations also shut down for two days out of seven.

The Poor Are Scarcer.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

President Coolidge politely declines to become a Moose, because he has other wood to saw. In addition he is not an Elk, a Redman, an Eagle, an Owl, a Woodman or an Odd Fellow. There are many things that he is not. Perhaps plain "American citizen" seems to him a sufficient membership badge.

A scientific expedition is bound for central Persia to capture the fleet wild ass, "whose house I have made the wilderness." You can't overtake it, running. It drinks enormous quantities of water once a day. Then, when you pursue it, galloping gives it pain, it falls down with cramps, and you catch it. Many men, before prohibition, were caught in that way, by fate.

Cats near Bakersfield, Cal., can sympathize with Midas, who changed into gold everything he touched, and nearly starved. California's cats were cheered, then horrified, by rolling waves of migrating mice. First they ate some; then ran from them in terror. Too much, even in mice, is too much.

Poisoned grain may do what cats couldn't do. Once when field mice threatened the alfalfa crop farther north, after owls, coyotes and other animals had eaten all they could hold, sea gulls came flying far inland, in huge flocks, scooped up the mice and ended the plague. Nature keeps things balanced. Ten shad in ten years would fill the ocean with their descendants, and one cabbage louse in ten years would produce enough to outweigh the earth, if all the young ones lived.

Joseph D. Bannon, New York philosopher, whose business is circulating newspapers, remarked: "There is no use writing editorials about the poor any more. There are none of those people left. They all have automobiles."

That isn't literally true, unfortunately, although it will be true some day. But there has been improvement.

The widow and 17-year-old daughter of Tony Pagliughi, organ grinder, killed by an automobile truck, ask $75,000 damges. They swear that his grinding organ, which always played cheerful tunes, earned $150 a week. That's almost as much as Uncle Sam pays a congressman or senator.

Mr. Dodd, president of the National Association of Book Publishers, says Americans will buy, ten years hence, twice as many books as are bought today. That's good news, if the right books are bought. What book printers need is more and better advertising and a lower selling cost. How many automobiles would be sold if a car costing $600 in the factory cost $1,000 on delivery? That's how it is with books.

Madrid reports that 20 children were slaughtered when a Chinese orphans' home and Spanish churches at Foochow were attacked by Chinese students. Rage against Christians in China has been increased by circulation of stories telling how Christians gouge out the eyes of Chinese babies.

That sort of lie stimulates murder. It is also the sort that was being printed and told about the Germans in the big war not so long ago to stimulate "patriotism".

German chemists still lead the world to the sorrow of American manufacturers of wood alcohol. The president last November increased the tax on wood alcohol to protect manufacturers. But Germany manufacturers synthetically "menthanol", which does all that wood alcohol will do. Since the president increased the tariff they have sent in 500,000 gallons. Americans must compete or quit.

Because men talked across the Atlantic at $25 a minute, the price of telephone and telegraph stock immediately went up. Now stock in cables under the oceans drops, stockholders fearing telephone competition. They need not. New things rarely ruin old things suddenly.

There is greater tonnage of sailing vessels on the water today than when the first steamship was built.

It's good to have ships at sea, if like Great Britain, you have an empire. Thursday the British admiralty took the ocean liner Megantic from the White Star line to be fitted for transporting troops to China. Britain will not drop her Chinese rights and future profits without a struggle.

Here, we hope to have no further use for ships carrying American soldiers across the ocean. But we ought to have a few ships, just in case.

Mr. Fokker, who knows how to build flying machines, is now building a big one that will go 3,600 miles on one supply of fuel and fly from California to Hawaii and 1,400 miles farther. That should interest the navy department. It might hire Fokker.

In Day's News

Joshua W. Alexander, who reaches his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary today, had a long career in the public service, but will be best remembered perhaps as Secretary of Commerce in the Wilson administration. Prior to entering the cabinet in 1919 he had served in congress for twelve years as a representative from Missouri. Judge Alexander was born in Cincinnati but Missouri has been his home since childhood. After graduating from a local academy he took up the study of law and later began practice in the town of Gallatin. With his rise in his profession he at the same time became prominent in politics and in due course was elected mayor of Gallatin and later a member of the Missouri general assembly. Service on the Missouri circuit court bench was followed, in 1905, by his election to congress.

THE FOURTEEN ERRORS OF LIFE

A London judge has listed what he considers the Fourteen Great Mistakes of Life, as follows:

1. It's a mistake to attempt to set your own standards of right and wrong and expect everybody to conform to them.
2. It's a mistake to try to measure the enjoyment of others by your own.
3. It's a mistake to expect uniformity of opinion in this world.
4. It's a mistake to look for judgment and experience in youth.
5. It's a mistake to endeavor to mould all dispositions alike.
6. It's a mistake not to yield in unimportant trifles.
7. It's a mistake to look for perfection in our own actions.
8. It's a mistake to worry ourselves and others about what can not be remedied.
9. It's a mistake not to alleviate, if we can, all that needs alleviation.
10. It's a mistake not to make allowances for the weaknesses of others.
11. It's a mistake to consider anything impossible which we ourselves cannot perform.
12. It's a mistake to believe only what the finite mind can grasp.
13. It's a mistake to live as if the moment, the time, the day were so important that it would live forever.
14. It's a mistake to estimate people by some outside quality, for it is that within which makes the man.

Lists have been made by all sorts of eminent men, including Washington and Franklin, for the conduct of life, and they are all more or less useful for the ordinary man.

The art of life is steering the middle way, avoiding errors on both sides, and it is interesting to have these reefs pointed out upon which many a human bark has been shipwrecked.

It may repay us all to examine this list of the London judge and see wherein we have been mistaken in the past and to avoid mistakes in the future.

There is nothing positive about the list. They are all things not to do, and not things to do. But the avoidance of these mistakes may save us much embarrassment.

Life is a perilous path at best and to makethe journey safely from the cradle to the grave involves much circumspection, and perhaps this list may be of help.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NO THIEF NEED APPLY.

Followers of Lenine and Trotzky murdered the Czar and his family. They committed many other murders at the outset of their regime. Their Bolshevik followers in Russia have added tremendously to the list. A great proportion of the best men in Russia, the worth while men, particularly the wealthy men of Russia, have been either killed or have escaped from Russia, leaving everything behind in the hands of the present Government, and its followers.

When the Soviet Government became well seated in the saddle, they took possession of everything in the banks in Petrograd, Moscow, and other Russian cities. They seized, among other banks, the Russian Asiatic Bank of Petrograd, and found in its vaults some Chinese Government five per cent. Re-organization bonds, being the loan of 1913 (Russian Series). The Russian Series were printed on yellow paper, and the then defacto Chinese Government refused to pay interest on any of the Russian Series except those where the holder could trace back title, and prove he was an investor in these securities, prior to December of 1917, when the Soviet Government actually seized the bank. The present Chinese Government likewise refuses to recognize these certificates, except upon proof. China is in a turmoil just now. The trouble may result very seriously or it may not. Things will probably straighten themselves out in the next year or so, for the Chinese are a particularly peaceful people. They are, moreover, a very honest people, and a very clever people, and they simply say in this instance, "We won't pay any money to a known thief."

There were a good many of the Russian Series which found their way into the hands of British and American investors. There are several New York banking and brokerage houses, who have been instrumental in helping American investors trace back their title, and the Chinese Government has recognized these bonds when so traced. It is still, however, a problem where the investor can not trace his title. Many of them probably have good title, and do not know it. Many have a title no better that the title which the purchasers of the Russian crown jewels are going to have. The Soviet Government stole these jewels, and they are for sale now in the United States. Are the purchasers of these jewels going to pay any more attention to the title to them, that the Government of the United States has paid in permitting them to pass through the Customs?

The "Heathen Chinese" may be "peculiar" but they have a very low opinion of a thief or the son of a thief.

Today's Anniversaries

1807—Congress was officially informed of Aaron Burr's treasonable conspiracy.
1852—Louis Napoleon, as President of France, ordered the confiscation of the Orleans family property.
1886—James T. Farley, former United States senator from California, died at Jackson, Calif. Born in Albemarle county, Va., Aug. 6, 1829.
1894—The Prohibition Amendment to the Iowa Constitution was declared void by the state supreme court.
1901—Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India, died at Osborne, Isle of Wight. Born at Kensington, May 24, 1819.
1903—Treaty between the United States and Colombia for the construction of the Panama Canal by the United States was signed at Washington.

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"To a Dog," by Josephine Preston Peabody.

A few years ago this fine American poet died—and her death was a distinct loss to our literature. She wrote "The Piper", the Stratford prize play, some years ago; and her poems on children are classics. She dwelt in Cambridge, Mass., and taught English literature for a long time at Wellesley. It is said that she proved an inspiration to her classes. She had the background, the cultural equipment to make an invaluable teacher. Her several volumes are packed with beauty, and the best from them will live in the anthologies.

So, back again? . . . And is your errand done,
Unfailing one?
How quick the gray world, at your morning look,
Turns wonder book!
Come in,—O guard and guest;
Come, O you breathless, from a life-long quest!
Search here my heart; and if a comfort be,
Ah, comfort me!
You eloquent one, you best
Of all diviners, so to trace
The weather-gleams upon a face;
With worldless, querying paw,
Adventuring the law!
You shaggy loveliness,
What call was it?—What dream beyond a guess,
Lured you, gray ages back,
From that lone bivouac
Of the wild pack?—
Was it your need, or ours? The calling trail
Of faith that should not fail?
Of hope dim understood?—
That should follow our poor humanhood.
Only because you would!
To search the circle, follow and outstrip,
Men and their fellowship;
And keep your heart no less,
Your to and fro of hope and wistfulness,
Through all world-weathers and against all odds!

Can you forgive us now?—
Your fallen gods?

Suggest Changes For County Treasurer In Collection Of Taxes

With a county treasurer to be elected in the fall of this year, there are a number of changes which could be made in the office, of benefit to the people, which would make splendid campaign material for prospective candidates, according to talk about the county.

Not that this article is intended to be used as a primer for candidates, but to draw attention to several changes in the office which should be made.

Should Notify By Card.

First is the notification of taxpayers by a postcard system. At the present time a taxpayer must go to the court house to find out what he owes. Were the same system used as is now used by the city treasurer, the county treasurer would send out postcard statements to taxpayers.

The expense of sending these out would be offset by the fact that they could also be used as receipts and the clerical help would be saved the necessity of making out receipts when the taxes are paid. This would also expedite the payment during rush hours.

Another thing is the assessing of more than one piece of property in one account. At the present time a taxpayer owning, say five pieces of property in the second ward, pays the taxes on all five in a lump sum. He does not know what was due on each piece and in order to find out has to go to the trouble of looking it up in the commissioner's office.

The efficient thing to do would be to assess each property as a single unit, so that taxpayers would know what their various properties are costing.

Third, the advisability of keeping the county treasurer's office open later in the day during rush hours. Many of the men working in the mills are forced to wait until the delinquent tax collector gets their statements before they can pay them because they are unable to get into the county treasurer's office during office hours. Either lay off a day or put a friend to the trouble of doing it. Were the office kept open for an hour or so each evening for a period of two weeks during the taxpaying season, the mill workers would be benefited and would undoubtedly appreciate the courtesy.

Nessle in Favor.

The county treasurer, David E. Nessle, who retires from the office on January 1, 1928, is heartily in favor of making the changes. Commenting upon them today he said: "I am convinced that the efficient way of getting taxes collected would be to notify taxpayers by postcard and thus let them know what they owe before they come to the office. The cards could also be used as receipts.

"I also believe that the assessors should assess properties as single units and thus give a taxpayer some idea of what he owed on various properties." On the third point, Mr. Nessle was not interrogated.

After all, it's the taxpayer who is to be considered, and if it is to his advantage to have postcard notification, assessment of each property as a unit, and evening office hours during the rush season, would'nt it be pretty good business to do so? New Castle is an industrial city and the workers make up the city largely. The outlying districts of the county would also be benefited by the changes.

Still Keeper

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A pretty, bobbed-haired girl nonchalantly smoking a cigarette was found by the police tending a 100-gallon still when police conducted a raid in Benning road early today.

Twenty gallons of whiskey and 500 gallons of mash were confiscated.

The still-tender gave her name as Violet Clark, 22. The police say her sweetheart owned the still.

Discuss Atlantic Avenue Extension

Greenwood Avenue Route Not Yet Finally Abandoned

Solicitor Robert M. White is preparing an ordinance providing for the opening, grading and paving of State street between a point where it is now paved at Greenwood avenue to West Washington street.

As soon as the ordinance is drafted it will be presented to council. It is not yet known whether the proposed bill will be passed.

The new thoroughfare, according to the ordinance, will be 45 feet wide. It will be an extension of Atlantic avenue, which is 50 feet wide.

It is said that the O'Laughlin property, at State street and Greenwood avenues, part of a lot owned by the Marquis heirs, and the Conzett property will be condemned.

The cost of the proposed improvement will be paid out of funds recently secured through a bond issue.

Won't Approve Plan, Claim

Councilman Tyler today stated that one of the reasons why he favors the foregoing named route is that the state engineer recently said the public service commission would not approve a Greenwood avenue to State street route, on account of the P.-O. railway crossing unless three houses were removed, and this would leave a jog in the route.

Opponents of the proposed extension of Atlantic avenue claim that by taking the three properties and paving Greenwood avenue the route would go along the railway for some distance before the route crossed the tracks, which would remove the hazard.

This plan, proponents claim, would not cost as much as the Atlantic route. Councilman Tyler and Engineer Frank Miller believe it will cost as much.

However, it is a difficult question to solve and council will probably go in a body to view both the routes before final action is had.

Electric Power From Sea Water To Be Developed On U.S. Coast

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Professor Georges Claude, one of France's foremost scientists, who is now in New York and who some time ago startled the French Academy in Paris with the announcement of his discovery whereby he explained that tropical sea-water at the surface level has a constant temperature of about 28 degrees centigrade, and which water at this tempature boils and evaporates into low pressure steam when brought in contact with a vacuum, has announced his plans for the construction of the first plant in a portion of the southern area on this side of the Atlantic ocean.

Doctor Claude says that the steam thus developed in its contact with the vacuum is drawn through a turbine by the condensing action of cold water obtainable form the sea at a depth of 3,000 feet where its temperature is constant at 5 degrees, and, according to tests made in the past, this process costs less than now obtains in most economic hydraulic plants.

Doctor Claude is of the opinion that the developmennt of this unlimited electrical power out of seawater, will be a revelation to the scientific world and can be produced at such a rediculously low cost and on such an enormous scale that it will relieve the industrial world of its dependency on coal and oil.

Among other possibilities of Dr. Claude's discovery is included the artificial cooling of homes, and in fact entire towns and countries lying in the semi-tropical belt.

By condensing the action of cold water Dr. Claude proved to the scientists of the French Academy that a cubic meter of surface seawater will generate about seventeen pounds of steam, or the power equivalent of a meter of water falling a distance of 300 feet.

Boy Scout News

TROOP 21

Troop 21 met this week for its regular session under the supervision of Scoutmaster John R. Dunfee. Fourteen scouts attended.

The meeting was of a business, instruction and social nature. Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan was a special visitor and instructed the boys in knot games besides encouraging them to continue their relations in scouting.

ROTARY TROOP 1

The Rotary troop 1 held its weekly meeting Thursday, January 20. The meeting was opened by Senior Patrol Leader John Boston followed by a knot tying contest. This contest was won by Jack Stone's patrol consisting of Stone, P. McWilliams, Bob McWilliams, Allen Garvin and John Boston. A basketball game was played by two of the patrols and this was also won by Stone's patrol.

The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Kenneth Cotton and Assistant Scoutmaster Wise. Troop Committeeman Reed McCullough was also present.

TROOP 15

Troop 15 of the First Christian church held its regular meeting on Thursday evening in the basement of the church. Scoutmaster Sidney L. Smith presided over the attendance of 24 scouts. Two visitors were also present.

After the regular opening ceremonies, the evening was spent in demonstrations of knot tying. Plans for the big Valentine party are nearing completion.

A meeting of the scouts who are preparing for the spring camporee will be held in the near future. The troop expects to hold a good place in this outdoor contest, as it did in the 1926 contest.

Scoutmaster Sidney Smith entertained the scouts with new knot tying tricks, and a number of new rope games were introduced.

This troop will register in February. All the scouts are bringing in their registration fees.

The next meeting of this troop will be held Thursday evening, January 27, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Troop scribe, George McCracken.

TROOP 17

Troop 17 held an interesting meeting with Scoutmaster Shultz, Assistant Scoutmaster Melvin Gray, one committeeman and 12 scouts in attendance. Two new members were voted in at this meeting.

Games were played and tests passed. A three-legged race was run and the results were as follows: Cannon and Blackford, first; Miller and McClurg, second; Ritchie and Hartley, third, and Rudolph and Foster, fourth. Harry Powell and Raymond Atkinson passed second class tests.

At the court of honor, which is to be held February 1, four scouts of this troop will be present—Paul Butler, Ferris Hartley, David Ritchie and Charles Buschman.

Committeeman Thompson, who was present, gave the boys a very interesting talk and promised a special speaker for every meeting.

Troop scribe, David Ritchie.

Police To Resume Revolver Practice

Mayor Dunlap Believes All Americans Should Know How To Shoot

Police Chief Henry Dysart today said that local policemen will again be sent to the target ranges for practice which was discontinued last summer.

There are some policemen who are not good marksmen and I want them to practice shooting" said Mayor Dunlap today.

The range is beneath the city building in quarters rented by a business concern.

The mayor instructed the police chief to try and secure the range again.

The mayor believes that all Americans should be proficient in handling firearms—especially policemen.

Alas! the suspicion lingers that some Senators espouse honor only to be contrary.

National Extension Society Formed To Boost Golf In Small Towns

By GEORGE A. STRICKLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—A campaign to further golf in the small communities will be taken in the immediate future by the National Golf Extension society, a newly formed organization with headquarters in Chicago.

The society was formed after a comprehensive investigation by public-spirited idividuals, who revealed that rural districts are in need of outside aid in the organization of clubs and the providing of organized playing facilities.

It was with this objective that the organizers of the society set on foot a movement to direct advice and aid to the small communities. Larger cities will also come within the scope of the society's field of endeavor if assistance is requested.

The campaign includes the mailing of form questionnaire to the chamber of commerce or civic clubs in towns bidding for aid. Later a qualified golf expert will go to the towns, deliver lectures, put the rural officials "hep" to the details of golf organization and illustrate their points with motion pictures.

Directors temporarily appointed pending permanent organization of the society include: Joseph G. Davis, editor of the Chicago Golfer; Robert T. Stanton, of New York; Louis A. Lecher, of Milwaukee; H. S. Ayres and A. W. Wilbur, of Chicago.

Among the notables favored for the missionary work in the campaign are William A. Alexander, Alec Pirie, Robert A. Gardner, Chick Evans, Joe Davis, Bob McDonald, Joe Rossman, Jack Patterson, and a score of others.

See Adjustment Of Labor Trouble At Hotel Building

Bricklayers Are Ordered To Return To Work—Other Controversy Being Settled

Labor situation at The Castleton, New Castle's community hotel which has been involved for the past two weeks on account of trouble over riggers used in placing a boiler in the cellar for the R. T. Withers Sons Company, heating contractors of the building, is being cleared up and indications are that everything will be moving as usual next week, according to M. J. Kintz, superintendent of the job for the general contractors, the H. J. Conrath Company.

Gottlieb Herman, eighth vice president of the bricklayers International Union, was in the city yesterday and made a thorough investigation of the situation and after determining all the facts in the case ordered the bricklayers back on the job.

Mr. Herman stated that the sympathetic strike involving the bricklayers as well as the laborers, hoisting engineers, electricians and iron workers and later the painters, sheet metal workers, plasterers, lathers and others, was wrong in principal and contrary to the international working agreemnt of his craft and to the best of his knowledge of the others.

Such disputes must in every instance he stated, be settled by arbitration if possible and if that fails then referred to the international organization in order that an international representative might come here to investigate and report back to his execitive committee when action relative to the situation may be taken. In this instance the matter was neither arbitrated or referred to the international organization. The plumbers and carpenters are not affected in this case.

Under the orders issued by Mr. Herman the bricklayers will report for duty when weather conditions will permit them to work.

Acording to Superintendent Kintz the unusual condition in the local trouble is the fact that the alleged non-union act was done on the work of the R. T. Withers Sons Company which is a separate contract and over which the H. J. Conrath Company has no control and for which it is not responsible.

Relative to the various reports concerning the possible adjustment of the local difficulty Superindent Kintz stated this morning "I invited T. J. McMichael, business agent of the Building Trades Council to come to my office on the job to discuss the matter. I was informed that he was at his office and that was where he did his work and that I could come there. As far as I know he nor any other official of the building trades council has been near the job since the trouble occurred or made any effert to adjust the matter."

Work is continuing to progress at The Castleton in spite of the trouble that has been caused by the dispute.

Challenge Right Of Senate To Bar Illinois Appointee

File Demurrer To Senate's Action In Barring Smith

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The state of Illinois and attorneys for Col. Frank L. Smith today jointly challenged the right of the senate to bar the Illinois senator-designate because of the slush fund charges raised against him in his primary campaign.

Appearing before the senate elections committee, counsel for the state and Smith filed a demurrer to the senate's action in closing its doors in Smith's face. The committee, however, admitted in evidence all the testimony taken by the Reed campaign fund committee. Its action definitely linked the campaign fund revelations to Smith's appointment by Gov. Len Small to the vacancy caused by the death of the late William B. McKinley and virtually assured a new investigation of all the slush fund charges.

The committee, showing evident confusion over the protest raised by the Illinois attorneys, adjourned the hearing for one week to give them time to prepare legal arguments demurring against the senate's action.

Mayor Performs In Another Role

Mayor William H. Dunlap found himself in a new role this morning when representatives of a certain bakery appeared before him at the request of Sanitary Officer L. S. Hoon to explain the condition of some bread which had been turned over to him.

The mayor disclaimed being a baking expert and one of the representatives proved by purchasing bread of competing firms and demonstrating it that there was no difference in the texture of fresh bread of one make or another.

District Conference Is Held In New Castle On Friday

THREE DISTRICTS MAKE RECORD

Three districts, New Castle, Wampum and Ellwood, had 100 per cent attendance at the Mid-year efficiency conference which was held at the Y. W. C. A. yesterday, afternoon and evening. A 100 per cent district is one that has every district officer or departmental superintendent, or a substitute, present at the conference. Slippery Rock District only lacked one of having a perfect record, and all of the remaining districts had unusually good attendance. The flag that was offered to the district having the best attendance was awarded to D. M. Marshall of Wampum District as he had considerable difficulty in getting his delegation to New Castle. His car broke down on the way and he had to go back and get another car. However, New Castle and Ellwood Districts will get simalar flags to that awarded to Wampum District.

Dr. G. W. Wellburn, Director of Relitgious Education of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, gave excellent addresses at both the afternoon session and the fellowship dinner in the evening. His address in the evening was on the subject, "Youth's Challenge to Adults."

At the afternoon session devotionals were conducted by Rev. H. C. Weaver, pastor of the First Methodist church, New Castle, Pa., and the music was in charge of Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ellwood City, Pa.

Rev. G. C. Fohner, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church New Castle, gave a splendid address on the subject, "Co-operation" and the report of the State Convention at Reading last year was given by Mrs. Harry W. Brown of Ellwood City, which was unusually good.

Rev. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church of New Castle gave a very practical and constructive address on the subject, "How to Keep the Young People in the Sabbath School," and Rev. Geo. M. Landis, pastor of the First Baptist church of New Castle gave a very helpful and thought-provoking address on the subject "The Adult Bible Class."

On the whole, the Mid-year efficiency conference of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association was one of the best, if not the best, ever held in Lawrence County, and it was highly complimented by Dr. Wellburn who was much impressed with his first visit with the Lawrence County Sabbath School leaders.

London Plans For New Skating Rink

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Once more there is to be all-year skating in London.

A palatial building, where it is always winter, has been put up at Grosevenor Road, London, for the benefit of those who want curling and skating without having to go abroad to a winter resort.

It will be known as the London Ice Club and will be the first time for ten years that the city has had an artifical ice rink.

The club will be run exclusively on social lines, and its 16,000 square fet of ice will be for members and their families only. Life memberships costs $500 and there will be an entrance fee of $65 and an annual subscription fee of the same amount.

The ice rink is 170 feet long and 100 feet wide. Underneath the concrete bed is an extensive system of piping of the refrigerating apparatus.

British figure skating champions will be held there next March and the world's championships probably the year after.

TO FORM CABINET

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—It was officially announced today that Herr Dr. Marx has accepted a mandate from President Hindenburg to form a new cabinet.

UNPARDONABLE ERROR.

International Sunday School Lesson

Notes On Lesson By

George M. Landis, Pastor First Baptist Church, New Castle

January 30, 1927

THE CHRISTIAN OVERCOMING TEMPTATION

Luke 4:1-13; I Cor. 10:12, 13.

Golden Text: "In that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succor them that are tempted." (Heb. 2:18).

The Christian is not exempt from temptation. In fact, the more aggressive he is in the work of the Lord, the more pleasing he is in God's sight; the more will the devil strive to destroy that man's work and ruin his testimony. Satan need give but little attention to the worldling. It is the outstanding, consecrated soldier of the cross that is injuring the cause of Satan; consequently that person is made the object of Satanic assault.

The young Christian in particular needs to know what God's Word teaches concerning the matter of temptation; its causes, character, consequences, and the way of escape. Excessive temptation is not necessarily an indication of great sinfulness, although some Christians falsely think so. It is yielding to temptation that is sin.

In the study of this lesson, we must not forget that the temptation of Christ, like his personality, birth, life, death and resurrection, was unique. There were phases of His temptation which cannot be duplicated in the life of His followers. The unique union of God and man in the incarnate Christ must be tested and its indissoluble, unfailing, and holy character displayed. The first Adam had fallen under satanic assault. The last Adam must meet and defeat the same enemy. He must demonstrate His absolute holiness and the utter impossibility of His ever being defeated by Satan; in order that repentant sinners might find in Him an unconquerable Leader, a never-failing Savior, and a worthy object of faith. If the devil could not defeat our Lord, neither can he defeat those who fly for refuge to the Lord.

While unique, nevertheless, there are many comparisons between the temptation of Christ and the temptation of His followers, for "He was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Heb. 4:15). From the standpoint of the help which we may derive from it in overcoming our own temptations, let us examine the record.

I. THE SOURCE OF TEMPTATION is Satan. No one can read this record and deny the fact of a personal devil. This story means nothing if it does not present a great battle between two separate and distinct persons: the Lord Jesus Christ and Satan. To deny the personality of one is to deny the personality of the other. Satan is very subtil and crafty and we should not be ignorant of his devices (2 Cor. 1:11). He uses the allurments of this world (1 Jn. 5:19), of which he is the present prince (Jn. 14:30) and god (2 Cor. 4:4); and the lusts of the flesh and mind (James 1:14).

II. THE OCCASIONS FOR TEMPTATION are numerous and varied. In the lesson, we find the devil used the period immediately following the baptism and anointing of Christ. The hours of triumph are often the hours of temptation. He also utilized the physical weariness and weakness of the Lord as a time for attack. Many a person has fallen when their physical forces were depleted and their brain overworked. The temptation was also at the beginning of the Lord's public career. This is a period fraught with grave dangers and subtil temptation, in the life of many. We must not think that this was the only occasion upon which Christ was tempted. In verse thirteen, we read that "when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season." How long that season was, we may not know. Probably it was of short duration.

III. THE AVENUES OF TEMPTATION are largely threefold; as is set forth in this incident.

1. Appetite (vs. 3). This was an appeal thru the medium of a perfectly right and normal appetite. Our appetites should be under the control of God, and should not be gratified under direction of Satan. Perfectly proper appetites and desires may soon be perverted and be made an avenue for sin. To eat is right and necessary, but gluttony is sin.

2. Ambition (vs. 5-6). Satan offered the Lord what appeared to be an easy and short cut to the fulfillment of His mission. It was to receive the world without the cross, but to receive it on such a basis was to acknowledge the sovereignity of Satan. Ambition, if God-directed, is the guiding star of the life; but ambition which is Satan-directed, is the curse of the life, leading into the depths of sin. Napoleon's lust for power, is a fitting example.

3. Applause (vs. 9-10) or the desire for fame. The devil tempted Christ to presume on the care of the Father and do a spectacular thing which would have brought to him the wonder and admiration of the people. Many lives are sacrificed on the altar of fame and the vain-glory of this world. Let us never tempt God's providential care by doing some fool-hardy act.

IV. THE RESOURCES OF THE TEMPTED are clearly set forth in this passage and are spoken of in I Cor. 10:13 as "the way to escape." The tempted soul has the following helps:

1. The Lord Jesus Christ by His example, His presence (Mat. 28:29, Eph. 3:17), His intercession (Heb. 7:25; 2:18); and His power (Rom. 8:37; 2 Cor. 2:14), is the deliverer of His people. Let us fly to Him when first we see the enemy approaching.

2. The Holy Spirit (vs. 1). The Lord was filled with the Spirit as entered the wilderness. We have the same Spirit to help us (Gal. 5:16, 24). Those who are filled with the Spirit are the triumphant souls.

3. The Word of God (vs. 4, 8, 10). In reply to each solicitation of the devil, the Lord Jesus wielded the Sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God (Eph. 6:17). Three times, "It is written," was hurled into Satan's face. We are safe in using the weapon which proved so effective in the hands of our Lord. Those who doubt the Bible and question its inspiration, fight with a broken sword.

4. Prayer, while not mentioned in this passage, is a helpful weapon in meeting temptation. In the words of the old hymn—

"Restraining prayer, we cease to fight,
Prayer keeps the Christian's armor bright,
And Satan trembles when he sees
The weakest saint upon his knees."

New Bus Line Proposal Now Being Opposed

Harmony Line, Pittsburgh Railways Company And Others Protest

HEARING WILL BE RESUMED LATER

Arrangement May Be Made To Provide For Inauguration Of Service

Pittsburgh Railways company and the Harmony Interurban company as well as the operator of a bus line from Wexford to West View entered a protest against the establishing of a bus line over the Perry highway from Harlansburg to Pittsburgh at a hearing which was held recently before the Public Service Commission at Pittsburgh it is learned.

The Pittsburgh Railways company which operates all street car lines in Pittsburgh and suburban towns as well as several interurban lines have asked for a continuation of the hearing of the application of Norman D. Patterson in order that they may have opportunity to enter protest against the establishing of this bus line into Pittsburgh over territory now covered by the street railway company. The Pittsburgh Railway company have lines from West View into the city.

The Harmony Route also entered protest and asked a continuance of the case as their line covers part of the territory over which the proposed bus line would operate. Also the operator of the bus line from Wexford to West View over which route the proposed line would go.

On account of these protests and that other interested parties may also have the opportunity to enter protests the commission continued the case to a later date the time of which will be made known later.

Notice is being given to the Pennsylvania Railroad company, the P. and L. E. Railroad company, the Besemer and Lake Erie Railroad company and John H. Welsh and Son who operate a bus line from Slippery Rock to Butler as well as any other interested parties that they may have the opportunity to appear at the future hearing.

Over 30 supporters of the proposed line were present at the hearing Wednesday and urged the establishing of the bus service. Most of these friends of the project were from places along the route including Portersville, Slippery Rock, Harrisville and Grove City.

Mr. Patterson has secured the services of William E. Porter former judge of Lawrence county as his attorney and they think that the line will be established although some arrangement may be made whereby the new bus line will not carry local passengers on the routes which is covered by other parties.

If the franchise is granted light cars will likely be used until the route is improved by a cement road, Mr. Paterson said. Mr. Paterson operates a line of large busses between New Castle, Gorve City and Franklin and if the new route is established it will connect with the present line at Harlansburg and schedules will be arranged so that connections can be made at that point.

Start Canvass Of State Employes As Regards Politics

Canvass Customary After State Election Carried On Secretly

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—A political canvass to determine the source of patronage for hundreds of state employes in western Pennsylvania was under way in the district today, it was learned here.

The canvass customary after a state election is being being carried on in secret, it was learned, each employe on the state's payroll being carefully listed, together with his party affiliation and political sponsor.

Although no political figure would take responsibility for the canvass, it was intimated that the list, after being carefully checked over by district "bosses", is to be sent to Harrisburg. With new appointments in most of the positions on the governors' cabinet, a veritable deluge of applications has poured in on district leaders for small political jobs. It is this flow of requests for recognition of political work and party loyalty that brings about the regular check, observers said.

Jefferson Hotel Being Repaired

South Jefferson Street Building Is Being Put In Shape

The Jefferson Hotel on South Jefferson street, which was somewhat damaged by a fire and resulting explosions several weeks ago, is now being repaired by the owner, Dominick Tutino, at an expense of many hundreds of dollars. The plate glass window front of the office part of the hotel, which was blown out on the sidewalk, but the glass of which remained intact, has been put back in place and the woodwork damaged by the fire is being repainted and put into condition. Mr. Tutino, who is now located on the East Side, does not plan to reopen the hotel and hopes to dispose of the property in the near future.

Nicaragua's Folk

Outnumbered By Population Of Pittsburgh, But 60,000,000 To South Resent U. S. Interference, Stewart Says

Here is a splendid view of the pier and docks at Puerto Cabezas, better known as Bragman's Bluff, where the liberal government of Nicaragua, recognized by Mexico, has its headquarters. In the distance the bluff rises, obscuring the view of the town. Inset above is map of Nicaragua showing the liberal headquarters on the east coast. Inset below is the artist's sketch of Dr. T. S. Vaca, confidential agent of the Sacasa liberal government in the United States.

(Charles P. Stewart, Central Press Washington correspondent, through his vast experience as editor and news association writer in Latin America, has a knowledge of trends of thought and opinions in countries to the south of the United States that few American correspondents possess. In this article, Stewart gives his idea of how the Latin Americans themselves view the Nicaraguan situation, pointing out angles that probably hitherto have escaped attention.)

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Nicaragua has less than Pittsburgh's population.

The Pittsburgh police force could dominate it easily.

To speak of United States intervention in civil war in such a country as a "military operation" is ridiculous.

Except to a handful of people it is of no importance whether Adolfo Diaz or Juan Sacasa is Nicaraguan president. It is not of much real importance to Nicaraguans. Diaz is called a "conservative" and Sacasa a "liberal" but these are mere party labels.

Nevertheless the Nicaraguans care enough about the difference to fight over it.

Liberals Evidently Majority

As the liberals were winning, presumably they are in a majority. They resented this country's intervention in Diaz' behalf. A majority of Nicaraguans, then, are bitter against the U. S.

Except in Panama, where the United States provides the public with its opinion, North American intervention in Nicaragua is resented throughout the rest of Central America, too. Though they quarrel among themselves, Central Americans hang together as against outsiders.

North American influence in Central America, however, is too strong today to be adversely affected, in any material sense, whatever Central American sentiment may be.

Mexican sentiment is a more serious consideration.

Yet, even that might not matter, in the end. The United States—at the cost, to be sure, of a brisk little war with Mexico—could annex all the territory from the Rio Grande to Colombia, and probably make the enterprise pay ultimately, in dollars and cents—if that were all.

It isn't all.

Population to South

South of Panama is a population exceeding 60,000,000 which would be united against this country to the last man, woman and child by such a program.

A landing of North American marines in Nicaragua is of small consequence in itself. A pin prick North American policy in Mexico might not be so bad if it angered only the Mexicans.

The worst is that such landings and pin pricking enrage every government and every people from the Caribbean to Cape Horn.

Brazil, traditionally friendly to the United States, is cooler now.

Chile and Peru have been alienated from North America by Washington's Tacna-Arica blundering. The Mexican and Nicaraguan situations fret them further.

The remainder of the southern continent is chronically, at least, suspicious of its big northern neighbor. Today it is doubly so.

The danger of the United States isn't military. It's commercial.

Important Facts About Nicaragua

Nicaragua lies between the Caribbean sea and the Pacific ocean with the republics of Honduras and Costa Rica to the north and south respectively. The area of the country is 49,200 square miles a little larger that the state of New York, but its population is only 638,119, according to the census of 1920. The capital city of Nicaragua is Managua, on the west coast. It has a population of 40,000. Next in importance in size is Leon with a population of 38,000. It is essentially an agricultural and stock raising country.

Ellwood May Have Hotel

Project Is Practically Assured At Board Of Directors Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—At a board of directors meeting yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, the hotel problem came up once again for considerable discussion.

The board planned for the Chamber of Commerce First Forum dinner which will take place in the near future as soon as a location can be secured. At this dinner the hotel project will be brought up, after which a referendum will be sent out to each member to vote on.

A choice of location is going to prove a real problem, in event of the project going through, and active business men are already discussing suitable sites.

Sunday School Head Presented With Gift Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan 22.—As a token of the high esteem in which he is held among his associates in the Imanuel Reformed Sunday school George C. Nicklas was presented with a fountain pen and pencil in the Sunday school recently.

The presentation was made by Henry C. Cresswell. Mr. Nicklas has been the head of the Immanuel Reformed Sunday school for a number of years and was recently re-elected for the year 1927.

Veterans Auxiliary And Sons Have Meeting

Many Applications For Membership Received At Meeting Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan 22.—The Sons of Veterans and Auxiliary met last evening in the lodge rooms in the Luxenberg hall for the purpose of installing officers who were absent from the installation meeting.

There was a good attendance and many applications for membership were received probably due to the banquet conducted some time ago, at which time a plea was made to continue the camp through the ages by continually augmenting with new members.

Plans wer made for a dance to take place in February. Committees were named for the celebration of Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays.

Fog Keeps Kiddies Home From Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—Owing to the dense fog which enveloped the city like a tent last night, the kiddies were unable to attend the Children's Hour at the Baptist church in their usual droves. However there was a nice crowd, and Rev. Macgeorge provided the usual entertainments, and Virginia Kerr had charge of part of the program.

It is hoped that the weather will be such next week that the usual 250 youngsters can attend the Children's Hour. Longfellow may have started "The Children's Hour" but Rev. Macgeorge and his staff, are improving on it, with large crowds each week.

Ranks of Movie Queens Produce Many Distinct Types

Central Press Photos

Here we have six well known feminine figures of the motion picture world, all representing different types. Merna Kennedy, a newcomer, is distinctly an "ingenue" type, petite and demure. Pola Negri is the "vampire," winning her place in the films with her seductiveness and fascination. Mildred Harris, in her best pictures, represented the innocent, unsophisticated girl. Marion Davies is the dashing, vivacious, appealing type. Edna Purviance might well be called the ambitious type. She showed this trait in rising from the crude comedies to such dramatic efforts as "A Woman of Paris." Mabel Normand is the hoydenish tomboy, bubbling over with impish tricks and pranks.

Ellwood Loses First Game In Section Four

Blue And White Passers Are Defeated At Evans City 19-14

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan 22.—The Ellwood City high floor team lost their first game as members of Section IV. of the W. P. I. A. L. last night at Evans City by a score of 19 to 14. The New Castle team defeated Butler 28 to 18 and the Lawrence County 'Seaters' take the leadership in the circuit.

The game was nip and tuck the entire way with both teams putting up a stubborn battle. Ripper and Heyl were the stars for Evans City with three baskets apiece. Clyde was the best bet for the locals.

The lineup and summary:

| Evans City—19. | | Ellwood City—14 |
|---|---|---|
| Schiavo | F | Clyde |
| Kennedy | F | Jones |
| Ripper | C | King |
| Heyl | G | Justine |
| Neal | G | McMurdo |

Field goals: Schiavo 1, Ripper 3, Heyl 3, Neal 1, Clyde 2, Lavate 1, King 1, McMurdo 1, Johnston 1.

Foul goals: Ellwood 3 out of 3; Evans City 3 out of 8.

Subs: Lavate, Johnston.

Striking Message By Evangelist

"Four Startling Questions" Theme Of Sermon In First Baptist Church

'Four Startling Questions" was the subject of a striking sermon given last night at the First Baptist church by Evangelist Mel Morris. The speaker selected four questions from the Bible which confront every sinner.

The first question was "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" (Mark 8:36.) Mr. Morris said in part: "This question was asked by the Lord Jesus himself. No one had a better right to ask it for He has an estimate of the relative value of the world and of a single soul possessed by no other person. Jesus Christ was associated with the Father in the creation of this world. Jesus Christ likewise has a true sense of the value of a human soul, for it was He who redemed the souls of men by His own precious blood. On Calvary's cross He poured out His soul unto death that our souls might be saved from eternal death. Therefore Christ can speak with authority and He says that one soul is of more value than the whole world.

"How shall we escape if we neglect salvation?" was the second startling question dealt with by the evangelist. Of it, among other things he said: "This is a question without an answer. No man can answer this question, for there is no possible escape. There is but one way to be saved and that is through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. It is a salvation so great that the vilest sinner can be saved The murderer, the harlot, the adulterer, the drunkard and every other type of sinner has hope in this great salvation.

"Hell is filled with people that forget and neglect God. What must you do to be lost? Nothing, absolutely nothing. Just fold your arms drift with the tide and you will spend eternity in the pits of hell from which there is no escape and no cessation of suffering.

The third question was taken from First Peter 4:18, "If the righteous scarcely be saved where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?" The speaker showed that the Christian life was not an easy life, but one full of trials, conflicts, persecutions which would try the faith of every man.

"Many will realize in eternity how nearly they came to being lost said the speaker, "What chance will there be for the ungodly sinner?" inquired Mr. Morris "If the children of God are but scarcely saved?"

The final question was "What shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?" (I Pet. 4:17. He challenged every unsaved person to ponder earnestly this startling question. "According to the Bible" said the evangelist, "the inevitable end of the Christ rejectors is an endless state of torment in hell. Let none deceive you into thinking that this means annihilation as some would falsely teach" said the preacher. In closing Mr. Morris gave an urgent appeal to the unsaved to repent of their sins and accept Jesus Christ as their Savior.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Emrys Thomas pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church.

Sunday will be the last day of the campaign. During the Sunday school hour Mr. Morris wil give a gospel talk to the school. At 11 o'clock he will preach on "The Unequal Yoke." At the farewell service in the evening at 7:30 his subject will be "Humanitie's S. O. S.".

Evangelist Morris has won the affections and admiration of the people of New Castle by his deep sincerity, humility of spirit, fearless denunciation of sin, clear and forceful preaching of the gospel and his unquestined passion for souls. His meetings have been free from the discredit to much of the evangelism of the day.

Verdict Returned In Plaintiff's Favor

In the case of Charles M. McKim against E. R. Koch, the jury returned a verdict for the full amount of the claim, $167.76. The case was one in which the plaintiff had sold a gas engine to the defendant. The defendant claimed that he could not get it started, but the plaintiff showed that when a man who understood gas engines, took charge he started it without trouble. Koch took the engine back to a railway station. McKim refused to accept it, claiming that it was alright. It was finally sold for storage, and McKim brought suit to recover the amount due on the engine.

Trade Figures Reveal Gain For Month Of October

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Trade between the principal nations of the world in October, 1926, was greater than in any other month since March, 1926, though less than in October, 1925, according to figures just compiled by the statistical research division, Department of Commerce.

Exports from the United States totaled $455,600,000 against $448,700,000 in September and $490,600,000 in October, 1925. Exports from the United Kingdom were 308,200,000; Germany $209,400,000; France $179,400, and Canada $131,500,000. For September these countries showed: United Kingdom $285,200,000; Germany $199,100,000; France $148,100 and Canada $93,300. In October, 1925, the figures were: United Kingdom $389,700,000; Germany $201,500,000; France $193,800,000, and Canada $144,500,000.

Thirteen of 18 principal trading nations showed increases in export trade and nine in imports from September to October.

Suit For Repairs Made To Building

The case of L. A. Haug against George Karidis and Ellis Frank, partners and also as individuals is on trial before Judge Hildebrand today. It is one in which suit is brought for $1,602.68 being for repairs made on the Richardson block at the corner of Beaver and West Washington streets. One of the points involved is a question as to whether Karidis and Frank were partners.

WIDOW DIES

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 22.—Suffering a hemorrhage of the brain last Saturday from which she never regained consciousness, Mrs. Margaret Brehl Gunster, 75, widow of the late Frederick Gunster, first district attorney of Lackawanna county and its president judge at the time of his death in 1902, died here today.

Rev. Scripture Speaks Of Sin

"Pleasures Of Sin" Are Discussed In Hoover Heights Tabernacle Service

The largest attendance of the week was present last evening at the special services being held at the Hoover Heights Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance on Morris street. The new song books which were ordered arrived yesterday and were used for the first time last evening. All were delighted with them.

The Rev. Scripture spoke on "The Pleasures of Sin". His text was taken from Hebrews 11:25, "Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season." The speaker declared that there were certain pleasures in sin. If this were not true no one would serve sin. But by contrast he emphasized the great and many advantages of the pleasures of God.

The pleasures of sin were declared to be of no value, they cost much but when enjoyed their value ceases. They cost too much for what is received, nor will they stand the test. They furnish no comfort or strength in trial, sadness or sorrow. The pleasures of sin are short-lived, at best the thrill is but for the moment. They always leave a sting behind and will not bear reflection for there is no pleasure in reviewing guilt. They do not wear well, the more often they are enjoyed the less enjoyment they give. They are expensive in money cost, in physical powers demanded and in shortening the life.

Compared with these are the pleasures of God. It is true the Christian suffers some here, but all people do, and the Christian has Christ with him and thus the sting of sorrow and trial is removed. Christianity has a great value for it works. It gives much more than it costs and it will stand every test. Whatever our need is if we give God a chance He will help us in it. Christian pleasures are eternal for his happiness is internal, not depending on outward circumstances. They give cheer, courage, happiness and buoyancy. They bear reflection. They increase in joy-giving. Christ becomes more precious, the experience more dear. They return great value on the investment, treasures are laid up in eternity, body is strengthened for the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, intellect is sharpened to serve God and the will is strengthened to obey God. Moses chose, so must you. What is your choice? There were a number who chose to go with God.

State Legislators In West Virginia Enter Into Recess

West Virginia State Solons To Convene Again In March

By PRESTON McCLANAHAN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 22.—Both houses of the West Virginia legislature stood recessed today until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the last lap of the short session commences. The fifteen day session adjourns on Tuesday until March 15.

The most important business on next Monday's calendar will be the final vote on impeachment papers against John C. Bond, former state auditor, which have been drawn up by the House Judiciary committee. The final vote will be taken by the lower house at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The Senate yesterday unanimously passed a resolution introduced by W. S. Hallahan, Kanawha, asking that an audit be made of the state compensation fund. The Senate also unanimously passed a resolution protesting confirmation of Cyrus E. Woods on the Interstate Commerce commission.

The report of the Biennial Budget committee was received and would conduct the state's business for the next two years on a budget smaller by $1,000,000 than the budget for the past two years.

Both houses received the request of Gov. Howard M. Gore that the expenditure of $15,000,000 in road bonds be authorized and power of the road commission be increased.

Indian Chief Seeks Citizenship For American Indians

Chief Nipo Strongheart of the Yakima nation of the American Indian in Washington state in a lecture at Bessemer High school last night stated that the treatment of the Indian on the government reservation is unfair and that he hopes to bring before the people of the country such an influence that an amendment can be made to the present American Indian Citizenship law of 1924 whereby the Indian may be granted unrestricted and complete citizenship.

The chief said, that now citizenship merely means that he is taxed and given the right to vote. The Indian is still a ward of the government and certain unscroupulous agents use the ignorance of the men on the reservations for the advancement of his own selfish interests. Many cases can be cited where the red man is not given a fair amount for the product of his labors that must be delivered to the agent, also the prices charged for supplies that he must buy at the agent's store are often doubled, he said.

Alexander Bill, First House Measure Appears Doomed, Says Leaders

State Representative Alexander Would Amend Administrative Code

Governor Fisher Brings Woe To Bill By Appointing New Board

BY ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—House Bill Number 1, introduced in the 1927 session of the Pennsylvania legislature by Representative W. C. Alexander, of Delaware county, today was doomed to be the first bill of the session to pass into oblivion.

The Alexander bill would amend the administrative code by making the state's five elective officers—governor, lieutenant governor, auditor general, state treasurer and secretary of internal affairs—members of the executive board, thus taking away the power of the governor to appoint the board.

Under the provisions of the code, the executive board is composed of the governor and four administrative department heads named by him.

Fisher Defeats Plan.

Gov. John S. Fisher, by appointing his executive board the third day of his administration, has tended to trim the chances of the Alexander bill weathering the barrage in the house. At least, Gov. Fisher has made it clear that he is unfavorable to any such bill, and that he approves the section of the administrative code which permits the appointment of the executive board.

Gov. Fisher selected the following administrative department heads to sit with him on the executive board: T. J. Baldrige, attorney general; Charles Johnson, secretary of the Commonwealth; Charles Dorworth, secretary of forests and waters; Benson Taylor, secretary of property and supplies.

While the Alexander bill would tend to take away some gubernatorial power, it would give the board jurisdiction over the auditor general's department, state treasury and department of internal affairs. Under the code as it now stands the executive board is without authority to supervise any of the activities in the three departments whose heads are elected.

By the terms of the Alexander bill the executive board would have supervision over the elective departments as well as over the administrative departments and wuold be empowered to fix salaries in the elective departments, standardize work, approve or dis-approve the establishment of bureaus and in general govern the activities.

Introduced Last Monday

House Bill Number 1 was one of a series of bills introduced in the house last Monday night by Representative Alexander to amend various sections of the administrative code. The majority of them deal with the proposed abolition of a number of existing departments and then grouping them as bureaus in the department of internal affairs.

It is considered likely by house members that all of the Alexander bills will follow along the route which apparently has been mapped out for Bill Number 1. The bills had neither the approval of the administration nor the department of internal affairs.

Order Delegates To "Stand Pat"

Delegates To International Union Workers' Session Given Orders

SEEK RENEWAL OF JACKSONVILLE POLICY

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 22.—"Stand pat" for a renewal of the Jacksonville agreement of 1922", was the instructions delegates carried from here today to the international convention of the United Mine Workers at Indianapolis of America. Following the 37th meeting of the Ohio miners of district six.

The convention of district six, which closed here late yesterday, unanimously endorced this wage scale instruction to delegates who will attend the Indianapolis convention Tuesday.

Seven clauses were included in the wage resolution as drawn up by the committee and favored by the delegates.

They demand: No backward step in the wage scale calling for 80 cents per ton for loading, and $7.25 to $7.50 for an eight-hour day; that internal affairs within various scale districts be referred to those districts, and that no basic scale be agreed upon that does not permit each scale district to negotiate joint contracts, interstate agreement and extension of central competitive field of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois by including outlying district.

Negotiations for a shorter work day: Any contract must be referred to members for referendum vote and must be ratified before officially signed; right to a wage that will permit miners to have a decent, respectable, American standard of living.

The convention closed with the passage of a resolution asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to adjust and correct discriminating freight rates, which it is charged favor mines in states south of the Ohio river.

Drug Store Thug Makes Getaway

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 22.—The police of three towns today sought "James Brown", who slipped through their hands and apparently got away after being overpowered in a Braddock drug store a few minutes after he had threatened Mrs. J. S. Herbert, wife of the proprietor, with death.

When arrested the bandit had $20 and a toy pistol in his possession. Braddock police thought he was taken to the Rankin police station and Rankin police believed Pittsburgh detectives had "Brown", who could not be located at any of the three jails.

"Brown" is believed to be related to a Braddock politician.

Health Association Members Gather

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 22.—Delegates to the third annual convention of the Pennsylvania Public Health Association here today were to select officers for the coming year after hearing a program of discussions by nationally known physicians and welfare workers.

Dr. Victor C. Heiser, widely known for his welfare work in the Near East, was to describe the health work sponsored by the League of Nations as a feature of the program. S. H. Replogle, assistant superintendent of Allegheny county schools, presided at today's sessions.

Charge Attempt To Intimidate Witness

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—William J. Calhoun of the intelligence unit, federal revenue department, has sworn out warrants against Chief of Police William Horne and Constables Joseph Mochanally, Walter Wyatt and Harry Bierer of Monessen, charging them with attempting to intimidate witnesses who were to appear against them at their trial for alleged conspiracy to violate the liquor laws, Calhoun said today.

Deputies armed with the warrants sought the officials today. Horne and his associates are at liberty on $2,000 bond each, awaiting trial with a score of other officials and residents of Monessen, cited in connection with an alleged conspiracy against the prohibition act. Calhoun charged that Horne, Mochnally, Wyatt and Bierer attempted to influence a number of witnesses and persuade them not to appear against the defendants at the government's trial the latter part of the month here.

French Girls Marry "Shieks"

French Colony In San Francisco Alarmed Over So Many Marriages

PLAN FOR NEW LOOKOUT STATION

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—The devastating inroads of San Francisco sheiks into the supply of French girls in the French colony here has caused grave concern among members of the colony.

Fear has been expressed that if the young French girls keep on marrying the American boys the colony will eventually disappear.

"It breaks our heart", an editorial in a leading French newspaper wailed, "to see our so gentille young French girls march away like this—to the foreigner."

In order to bring young French girls and boys together, and thus keep pure the Gallic strain, a number of "soiree dansantes" have been planned.

Replacing the old lookout station which has looked over the Golden Gate for the past 50 years, the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce will open a new station soon after the first of February. The new station will have a visibility of more than 35 miles and will overlook both the ocean and San Francisco Bay.

Winter baseball in San Francisco Bay region has had a successful season. In three months' play only two games were stopped on account of rain.

Americans are lagging behind in foreign trade because they build their ships larger than those of their European competitors.

This paradoxical statement was made here recently by Capt. Robert S. Dollar, poineer shipping magnate of the Pacific.

"Building large ships sounds big," Captain Dollar explained, "but it simply means that the ship owners have to pay 20 per cent more than foreign owners to enter foreign ports. Our big boilers, also, give more waste and trouble than those of other ships."

The "honor system" at the University of California has been a failure, an editorial in the "Daily Californian", student newspaper, charged recently.

The "honor system" is an educational experiment whereby students are "placed upon their honor" not to cheat during scholastic examinations.

"Reflection upon last semester's set of final examinations", the editorial declares, "strengthens the conviction that the honor system, in its present form, cannot prevent a large percentage of the students from giving and receiving information during examinations."

The world's long distance commutation record is claimed by Louise Padilla, junior at the University of California, and her sister, Maria, who have made 14 trips between here and Mazatlan, Mexico, within the past 15 months.

The girls went to Mazatlan to visit their father, who is a wealthy exporter of the Mexican city. Mazatlan is approximately 1,500 miles away from San Francisco.

Much of the "static" complained of by San Francisco radio fans was caused by electrical construction work, violet ray machines, faulty power lines, defective ignition systems, door bells, trolley lines and street cars, an investigation by the Pacific Radio Trade Association revealed.

When he cleans his own ash tray, he thinks he is a great help about the house.

When the printer's devil and the rest of the crew from the top down get so bad that it is necessary to have a full time spiritual advisor in the plant it is time for investigation. And when a regular minister is not equal to the job but a missionary who is accustomed to taming the wild men of Siam is employed then it is time for the Chamber of Commerce to investigate.

Jazz King Jazzes, Thief Steals Coat

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 22.—Paul Whiteman, "jazz king", lost a $1,100 beaver coat today when it was stolen from the Y. M. C. A., while Whiteman was giving a free concert to the Kiwanis Club.

"Who could have thought a coat would be stolen in a Y. M. C. A.?" exclaimed Whiteman. Then he added some of Mr. Webster's vigorous expletives.

Your Income Tax

Income Tax in a Nutshell:

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period ends March 15, 1927.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

No. 6

Of the millions of taxpayers who file returns for the year 1926, the vast majority are entitled, in addition to the personal exemptions of $3,500 for married persons and heads of families, $1,500 for single persons, and a $400 credit for each department, to a further credit of 25 per cent of the tax on their earned net income. Correctly to compute this credit, the taxpayer first must compute the amount of tax which would be payable without the earned income credit. From the amount of the tax, 25 per cent is to be deducted, the balance being the amount of tax due.

In the allowance of the 25 per cent credit, the surtax was taken into consideration for the first time under the revenue act of 1926. The maximum amount which may be claimed as earned income is increased from $10,000 to $20,000. Earned income is defined as "wages, salaries, professional fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered."

However, all net income up to $5,000, whether actually earned or not, is considered earned income for the purpose of the 25 per cent credit. A taxpayer may have received in 1926 a salary of $2,400 and from a real estate transaction, or sale of stock, a net profit of $2,600. Nevertheless, the entire $5,000 is considered as earned income, and the tax payable by a taxpayer, unmarried and with no dependents, in such case is computed as follows:

|---|---|
| Net income | $5,000 |
| Less personal exemption | 1,500 |
| Balance taxable at 1½ per cent | 3,500 |
| 1½ per cent of $3,500 | 52.50 |
| Less ¼ of $52.50, earned income credit | 13.13 |
| Balance of tax payable | $ 39.37 |

Night Banking Service Given In New York

One Of Banks Has Automatic Service For Night Customers

By ARTHUR WIMER,
(New Castle News New York Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Fifteen years ago The Harriman National Bank established in New York an after-dark banking branch, the first financial institution of its kind to be located in this city. The paramount idea of the Harriman organization in introducing night banking was protection of restaurant owners and theatre operators against bandits and second story workers. In 1912 police protection was not what it is today, and the business man who was forced to keep over night in his own home the gleanings of the day was frequently the victim of artists of the mask and gun.

The night-banking venture was received with enthusiasm in New York, not only by business executives but also by tradesmen. Proprietors of shops, restaurants, and theatres were now enabled to visit the bank and deposit their money after they had closed their places of business at night. The tradesman who was prevented by his working hours from visiting the bank during the day also found the after-dark banking scheme much to his liking.

The practice of night-banking was soon adopted by other banks and spread rapidly throughout the city until 1916 when its development was suddenly checked by the war. During the two years that followed it was abandoned to a certain extent, but with the signing of the Armistice the practice was revived and grew in magnitude until today the number of banks operating at night is almost on a level with those open only during the daylight hours.

In the crowded hotel and theatrical district are many banks which are open every night of the week except Sunday, usually until 10:30 or later, if necessary, not only to receive deposits, but for general banking business. Merchants and managers of playhouses are glad of the opportunity to deposit their funds, and the night banks thus fall heir to a large volume of business.

Many of the banks which keep open after dark have safety deposit departments as well as storage vaults. To these metropolitan branches clients often go at night after the theatre performance to leave costly wraps and jewelry, safe from moths or thieves. Many such banks remain open all night.

Another institution that has developed from the idea of night-banking is the automatic bank where the client may deposit his money at any hour. In the outside wall of such a bank is a large slot into which the depositor shoves cash or checks and then goes on his way without further worry. He puts his deposits in a special container which is slid down a channel and on reaching its destination rings a bell, notifying the night watchman of its arrival. In the conduit or tube are valves so located that no package may be removed, once it has began its trip down this receptive throat.

The night-banking idea has not been confined to metropolitan centers of the country. In the smaller cities of the country the after-dark banking movement is gaining considerably, and the demand for expert advice from officials in New York is daily becoming more pronounced. The bankers' day that ended at three o'clock is apparently a thing of the past. The public has always wished to bank at night, and with the impetus that post-sunset banking activities has received during the past year, it would appear that all banks will soon be forced to hang out the sign, "Open Day and Night."

DOUBTFUL.

"Mother," said Tommy, "will you you go to heaven when you die?"

"I fully expect to, Tommy," smiled his mother.

"Well, will daddy go with you when you do?" asked the kid.

"I doubt it, dear," sighed his mother, "he never wants to go anywhere with me any more."—From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Woman Wooes Cash From Victims But Is Finally Caught

Alleged To Have Sent Photograph Of Dead Sister To Prospects

OIL CITY, Jan. 22.—Accused of using a photograph of her comely young sister, who died four years ago, in connection with a fake matrimonial scheme, whereby western men were victimized, Mrs. Frank Hazlett, 208 Highland avenue, was arrested last night by Deputy United States Marshal David A. Goldman of Pittsburgh.

Information preferred by William H. Taffell, postal inspector of Erie, specially charges use of the mails in a scheme to defraud. Mrs. Hazlett was released under $1,000 bail for a hearing before a United States commissioner in Erie, March 21.

According to government investigators, Mrs. Hazlett, whose husband works here, has been engaged for the last several months in using the mails to trick westerners into sending her money as their prospective bride. They allege she obtained names of men in the west through matrimonial agencies and entered into correspondence with them.

In one instance it is alleged that Mrs. Hazelett forwarded a photograph, ostensibly that of herself, whereas, the postal authorities say, it was a photograph of her younger sister who is dead. The photo reveals a young woman of unusual beauty.

It is claimed money was sent to Mrs. Hazlett by men captivated by a description of her charms and by the photograph, to pay her way to the west, where the wedding was to take place, but the prospective bride failed to put in an appearance the investigators said.

Government investigators declined to reveal the names of the westerners who had been in correspondence with Mrs. Hazlett.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22, 1927.—At this writing, January 13, the month's weather has been very close to my forecasted schedule and this circumstance causes me to give an extra warning that severe weather is expected before the close of month. Storm period centering on January 23 is expected to be the most severe of the month; this storm center will be both preceded and followed by severe cold waves that will reach great extremes over practically the entire continent, but be most severe in sections 2 and 4, as greater extremes are reached after storm centers have passed 90th meridian and as they reach vicinity of St. Lawrence valley. These cold waves will be expected to center on 19 and 26. Severe but not dangerous would be my expectations for this period. A storm wave of mild intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on January 29; cold wave will not be so severe following this storm center as have been the cold waves of the two storm periods centering on 17 and 23 and will be followed by a short period that will average above normal temperatures and below normal precipitation. During last ten days of January precipitation will be expected to average considerably above normal generally; most precipitation will be expected in sections 2, 4 and 7, the northeast and extreme northwest sections; most precipitation is sections 2 and 4 will occur in eastern parts of those sections. Map of these sections and explanations of terms used in these weekly bulletins will be forwarded to those who address Foster's Weather Bureau, 32 T street, N. W., Washington, D. C., enclosing return postage with their request. Detailed forecasts of February weather will appear in next weekly issue.

THE FOSTER THESIS

We must learn the effects that each planet and the moon have on our weather by taking the weather that occurred in the past when the planet or moon was in the same relative position. The planets and resultant weather cycles have periodicities differing with each other, and these periods overlap till all are obscured. The great difficulty lies in finding a method by which these cycles can be uncovered, the effects of each of these bodies separated from the others. Taking the weather records as a base, it is utterly impossible to find cycles regularly recurring, and it is only by analyzing, by separating them into constituent parts that the cycles can be found. That is the problem we have solved and on which the scientific world has continuously failed in an effort covering one hundred and fifty years.

I do not claim that my work is completed, nor that my forecasts are perfect, but that they are sufficiently so to be of value, possibly as complete as one man's efforts will be able to make them, yet my efforts to improve my forecasts will only stop when I do.

State Men To Look After Unlicensed Dogs In County

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 22.—The state officers presented themselves at the office of County Treasurer David W. Denton yesterday and checked up the numbers of dog licenses issued for 1927, and started out after the 6,000 who have neglected to take out their new licenses.

January 15 was the date of the expiration of the 1926 tags. Many arrests and heavy fines will probably result. Mr. Denton stated today.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

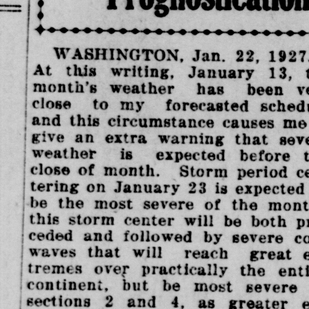

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Spinster Weds Generalissimo Of Bimbo Army

Collector Of Beetles Presents Poppies To General Cadenza—Proposal—Wed

News of the betrothal and wedding of Miss Portia Vanderveer, noted collector of beetles, to General Cadenza, Generalissimo of the Army of Bimbo, has created a sensation among the class of '89 of Miss Nancy's select boarding school for young ladies.

Miss Portia, sister of the late J. D. Vanderveer, recently sailed for the South Sea Island accompanied by her niece Sylvia heiress to the Vanderveer millions, who will soon be wed to Jack Damon, Civil Engineer, culminating another south sea romance.

It is reported that the miraculous marriage of Miss Portia is the result of accidentally becoming entwined in one of the odd customs of the tropical island of Bimbo, where the presentation of a red poppy by a person of one sex to one of the opposite sex constitutes marriage.

While hunting for a strange flying beetle, the spinster plucked a boquet of poppies which grow profusely on the island, just as she was about to pass the General, she tripped falling into his arms, at the same time leaving the bunch of poppies in his possession, both parties seemed satisfied to abide by the laws of the land, and their many friends wish them well.

One of the provisions in the Vanderveer will, stipulate that Sylvia should not marry until her aunt did so. Jack Damon, engaged in building a railroad across the island of Bimbo, struck while the iron was hot, and the Vanderveer family has two new members.

Events leading up to the above romances and their culmination, form part of the romantic musical comedy Bimbo, to be presented at the Cathedral on January 27th and 28th, under the auspices of Corporal Harry L. McBride Post, 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Miss Virginia Reeher in the role of Aunt Portia, Allen Haid as General Cadenza, Miss Shirley Garwig as Sylvia and Charles Walther as Jack Damon, will live up to their past record in dramatics by playing their parts to perfection, which assures a most enjoyable entertainment to those who witness the play.

The group of South Sea Island Belies, will lend a touch of atmosphere to the play with their portrayal of native dances and costumes, this group is composed of the Misses Gladys Campbell, Mabel Harbert, Doris Evans, Clara May Lindsley, Thelma Onasch and Grace Nickel.

Historic Court Book Returned

ELIZABETH, N. J. Jan. 22.—A book of records, said to contain wills of relatives of George Washington and proceedings of the Stafford county orphan's court of Virginia during Revolutionary days was turned over to H. R. McIlwaine, librarian of the state of Virginia, by the Union County Historical Society.

The book was taken from Stafford county court house in 1862 by I. S. Haskins, a member of the Union forces, which occupied the building during a Civil War battle there. It reached the society after passing through the hands of several persons.

Among the wills in the book were those of John and Henry Washington, the degree of whose relationship to the first president was not learned.

From Worker to Board of Directors in One Day

From the blue jeans of a worker who pulls electric switches to the blue serge of a member of the executive board of a company whose gross receipts are more than $50,000,000 a year is a far cry for one man in a single day. But that is the jump Sylvestre H Stout, system operator of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, will make on Feb 1. On the following day, he will return to his old post. He is a representative of the employes' cooperative association, which appoints two workers each year to sit with the other directors of the company. C. B. Hauseman is the other workers' representative. Left to right, the picture shows the company's directors: A. A. Mitten, F. F. Stook W. R. Smith, C. B. Hauseman. S. H. # PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

"IF YOU CAN'T SPEAK GOOD"

Peter and the little girl stared at the little man mounted on the tiger lily.

"Why, you don't look cross!" exclaimed Peter.

"No, not one bit!" declared the little girl.

Both of them, you see, were thinking of what Mistress Moo had so recently told them.

The cow, although she was very much ashamed at being caught telling tales on Pixie, was stubborn and stuck to her point.

"I don't care what you all think—I told the truth!" grunted she. "You think Pixie looks pleasant now—and he does—but you should see him when it rains!"

Pixie really did not have a bad disposition and he proved it now, for the cow was really very rude. But Pixie kept on smiling his little crooked smile as he asked Mistress Moo some questions.

"Who opened the bars of the barnyard gate so you could slip away into the shadows?"

"You!" cried Mistress Moo.

"After you escaped, who was it that sent a rabbit scampering across your trail so that old Dog Tray would lose your scent and go on a wild hare chase that led nowhere?"

"You!" Mistress Moo's reply came lower.

"Who climbed the long way up a moonbeam and got the promise of the Man in the Moon to lower his great golden globe?"

"You!" Mistress Moo hung her head.

"And who then went begging 'mong the Fairies and borrowed from them four of their wings, and with his own hands fasten them to your great feet that had never worn wings before, so that when your strength gave out the Fairy wings might carry you up and over the moon?"

"You!" Mistress Moo's reply was now so faint that Peter and the little girl had to bend their heads to catch it.

"Well, then, Mistress Moo," went on the little man, "don't you think it would have been kinder to have first told these little earth folk the fine things I have done rather than to have tattle-taled of my naughty days, which, after all, only come around once in a while? If you can't say any good of a feflow, why say anything about him at all?"

Next—"Peek-a-Boo!"

DINNER STORIES

A man with a look of business on his face came to a hotel-keeper, and asked him if he would buy two carloads of frogs' legs.

"Two carloads!" said the man, in amazement. 'Why, I could not use them in twenty years!"

"Well, will you buy a half a carload?"

"No."

"Twenty or thirty bushels?"

"No."

"Twenty or thirty dozen?"

"No."

"Two dozen?"

"Yes."

A few days later the man returned with three pairs of legs.

"Is that all?" asked the hotelkeeper.

"Yes; the fact is that I live near a pond, and the frogs made so much noise that I thought there were millions of them. But I dragged the pond with a seine, drained it and raked it, and there were only three frogs in the whole place."

"Rastus, how is it you have given up going to church?" asked Pastor Brown.

"Well, sah," replied Rastus, it's dis way. I likes to take an active part an" I used to pass de collection basket, but dey's give de job to Brothah Green, who jest returned from Ovah Thai-ah."

"In recognition of his heroic service, I suppose?"

"No, sah, I reckon he got dat job in reco'nition of his having lost one o' his hands."

"Your remedy has worked wonders in my case," wrote a grateful woman to the patent-medicine concern. "When I began taking it six weeks ago I was so weak I could not spank the baby; now I am able to lick the stuffing out of my husband. May heaven bless you, sirs."

Mercer County Man Is Elected

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—H. R. L. Anderson, of Mercer county, was elected president of the Pennsylvania Thresher and Farmers' Protective Association at the 14th annual convention of the association here Friday. J. H. Brubaker, of Lancaster county, was elected vice-president.

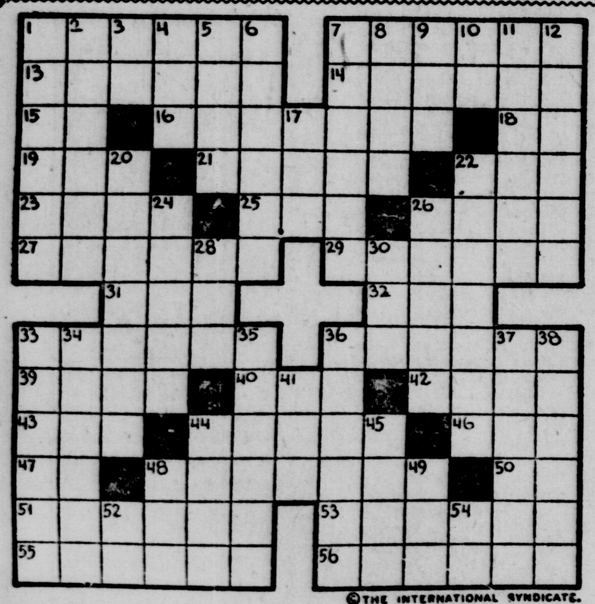

Efforts will be made to cover all labor, including farm labor and domestics by the workmen's compensation act in amendments to the act which will be presented to the legislature, J. V. Gosline, compensation actuary of the state insurance department, said in an address to the delegates to the convention. Farm labor and domestics are the two classes of labor not included in the act at present.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS BUTLER 23 TO 18

Are Undisputed League Leaders

REIDER-OSTROSKY STAR PERFORMERS

New Castle high's crack floor team, gained undisputed possession of first place in section IV of the W. P. I. A. L. on Friday night by a brilliant 23 to 18 victory over Butler high on the latter's court. Ellwood City dropped to Evans City 19 to 14, leaving the locals the only undefeated league team.

The local combination proved superior to the Butlerites in all departments of the game. Butler high tallied the most field goals that any team to date has secured at the hands of New Castle, seven in number, but this was not sufficient to overcome the tally hung up by the Red and Black.

First Quarter Deadlocked.

Play in the first quarter of the game was hard fought and close throughout. The score was deadlocked at 2-2 as the first session ended, and it looked for a time as if the locals had encountered a team that would match their cleverness.

By virtue of a foul toss the locals held a lead of 8 to 7 as the first half ended. Each team tallied three field goals, but the locals annexed one more foul than did Butler. Reider and McGrath were the best bets for the locals, while LaFevre, Beatty and Wolfgong secured the points for Butler.

Coming back into the third quarter the Red and Black machine started to function in proper manner and it was not long until the lead was increased. Ostrosky and McGrath led the way in the third period. New Castle held a lead of 17 to 11 as the third quarter was concluded. The defense offered by Klaber and Ostrosky kept the Butler team from the hoops, and they scored but four points in the quarter.

Locals Outscored.

Butler high outscored the locals seven to six in the final quarter by a last minute spurt, but the rally was stopped by the whistle that ended the game, and the New Castle team through the third quarter efforts had gained another league victory.

Paul Reider, McGrath and Ostrosky stood out quite prominently in the New Castle victory, with three field goals apiece, while Neyman, Johnson and Klaber also put up a fine game.

Lafevre, Wolfgong and Harper were the best bets for the Butler team. Butler offered a fine defense but their offensive ability needs strengthening if they are to advance very far in the section.

New Castle has won four straight league tilts and it begins to look like a New Castle championship in section IV. The locals will be inactive until next Friday night when Ellwood City high will appear here.

The lineup and summary:

| New Castle 23 | | Butler 18 |
|---|---|---|
| Reider | F | LaFevre |
| Neyman | F | Beatty |
| McGrath | C | Wolfgong |

Overlands-Merchants To Meet In League Battle

Strong Rick-Overland Outfit To Play Merchants Tonight

Junior Teams To Battle In Preliminary Game At Eight O'clock

The Rick-Overlands will meet the East Side Merchants tonight in the only City Industrial floor game on tap. The first game scheduled between the P. and O. and P. and L. E. has been cancelled due to the fact that the railroad boys have withdrawn from the circuit.

Two Junior teams will stage the preliminary game. The first game will start at 8 o'clock. The junior teams that are to play tonight were named as the Shamrocks and Musketeers.

The Overland-Merchants game should be a first class thriller. The Overlands defated the Merchants by a close score the first time the teams faced each other and another close battle is looked for tonight. the Overlands are slight favorites to cop the victory although the Merchants may spring a surprise.

The fans can rest assured that they will be treated to a rare dish tonight. The Merchants in event they win tonight can deadlock with the Overlands for second place in the circuit.

High Girls To Play Sharon Here Tonight

Former World's Champions To Oppose Red And Black Maidens Tonight

The New Castle High girls team will clash with the Sharon High maidens, former World's champions at the Senior High gym floor at 7 o'clock tonight.

The locals after a lengthy practice session on Friday afternoon are fit and ready for a hard battle tonight. The Red and Black team has come through victorious in their past two games and they are anxious to retain their standing. New Castle was the only team that defeated Sharon's championship team last year. Sharon High is anxious to avenge that defeat and a good game is looked for tonight.

Miss Boyd was just a little undecided today on her lineup, but it is a good guess that the following girls will start for New Castle: Patterson and Ponion at the forwards, Plattner at center, Patton at side-center, Wolf and Wygonowski at the guards.

Grovers Beaten By Methodists

Allegheny Waits Three Years To Down Grove City

MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 22.—After waiting nearly three years to defeat Grove City's basketball team, Allegheny trounced the Crimson in an exciting game here last night by the score of 40 to 23.

The first half ended 25 to 14, Allegheny being on the long end in both quarters, the first of which was most thrilling. It would have been difficult to pick the star for Allegheny, for from Capt. Rhodes down the entire team acquitted themselves as never before. McClurg ran wild throughout the game, as did Cibula. Moon outplayed his man throughout, and the floor work of Capt. Rhodes and Forward Thompson was beautiful thruout the entire game.

Captain Stevens for Grove City was pitted against Cibula and scored seven points to 11 for the Allegheny player.

Two officials were used in the game, Dalzell being the referee and Waite the umpire, and the double system seemed to please the fans.

LaBarba Retains Flyweight Title

Elky Clark, Fast Little Englishman, No Match For Coast Fighter

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The world included England today for the first time as far as the flyweight situation is concerned, for last night at Madison Square Garden the gifted Fidel LaBarba, hitherto champion to everyone's satisfaction except the English, gave Elky Clark the British challenger, a sincere going over in 12 one-way rounds. It was called a championship match and maybe it was but Clark contributed nothing except his countenance.

Of this, he gave until it hurt and at the end he still was contributing with lavish generosity in spite of the fact that LaBarba had scored five knockdowns, leaving the invader all but out in the first, third and eighth rounds.

The only thing that could be said for Clark is that he is willing. But so is a pack burro and usually they can't send that kind to the post with thoroughbreds. Mr. T. Rickard got away with it handsomely, a crowd of close to 20,000 rioting at the turnstiles for the edifying privilege of seeing a good man beat up a bad one. Something of the same effect can be obtained any day at the Chicago stock yards free gratis and for absolutely nothing.

Grove City High Tops Wilmington By Score 29-20

Grove City High Passers Too Strong For College Town Boys

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—The Grove City High floor team gained a 29 to 20 decision over New Wilmington High in a hard fought game played on the High school floor.

The Grovers held a slight lead throughout the entire game. New Wilmington High lacked the necessary defense to stop the flood of baskets that the Grove City men poured through the hoops. Hall the lanky Grove City center tallied six baskets and was easily the outstanding figure.

The Grove City team led at the first half by a score of 13 to 7. New Wilmington High never threatened in the final two periods.

Davis and Hutchinson were the best for the losers.

The lineup and summary:

| New Wilmington 20 | | Grove City 29 |
|---|---|---|
| Davis | F | Murry |
| W. Patterson | F | Montgomery |
| Hutchinson | C | Hall |
| P. James | G | Patterson |
| Herriott | G | Faulls |

Subs—Hover for Davis, B. James for Patterson, Neal for Herriott Henderson for Murry, Skelly for Hall, Dunn for Faulls, Clurg for Dunn.

Field goals—Davis 2, W. Patterson, Hutchinson 3, B. James, P. James, Murry 3, Montgomery 2, Hall 6, Patterson.

Fouls—New Wilmington 4 out of 13. Grove City 5 out of 21.

Referee—Nolte, Mahoning Valley.

There's A New Richards Looming In Tennis World

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Who will take Vincent Richards' place in American tennis?

Richards himself has been lost to amateur tennis, of course, since he joined the Lenglen-Pyle entourage some months ago.

He held rather an unique place in tennis. Thrust into the limelight early as a child protege of Bill Tilden, Richards, at an age when most youngsters have not yet dared to enter an important meet, was mentioned as a future Davis cup player.

He won the national junior indoor title at 15 (in 1918) and held it the next two years. He won the outdoor junior title in 1919—at 16—and held it the next three years. He also won the senior indoor title in 1919, defeating no less a rival than Tilden in the finals.

He and Tilden won the national doubles title in 1918, when Vincent was 15.

And at 19—in 1922—he played in the doubles with Tilden in the Davis cup matches against Australia.

Tilden himself is grooming Junior Cohen, Kansas City youth, for Richards' shoes. But in New York the recent playing of Julius Seligson has caused considerable discussion and the more optimistic critics believe he is on his way to take a place in the sun similar to that enjoyed by Vincent Richards.

At 17 years of ago Seligson has just won his second successive junior national indoor tennis championship.

His stroking is classed as remarkable for a player of his age and ranks with that displayed by Richards in his early play.

He has a powerful service that launches him on a terrific offensive. His technique is unusual, considering his experience.

He has already defeated senior players of national note in informal and match play.

Seligson is a freshman at Lehigh university. The one-year rule prevents him from playing with the varsity team there. This, however, gives him an opportunity to perfect his play against more experienced competition in local and sectional meets around the east.

Westminster Meets Bethany Tonight

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 22.—To shock or be shocked. That is the mental attitude of the Westminster College varsity as it awaits the coming of the Bethany College passers Saturday evening. The catch is that there is every chance that Westminster will be shocked, as two regulars have been unable to don uniforms since the strenuous fray with Allegheny Wednesday evening.

The lads whose fate is doubtful are Lewis of Farrell, guard, and Conners, New York City, forward. Both seem to have over-exerted themselves in their endeavors against Allegheny. Both were confined to bed by the physician's orders Thursday and were unable to report for the final drill Friday evening. Troubled with colds, neither had any right to participate in the contests, and where hard luck will end is no telling.

Coach Lawther is not the least bit optimistic in regards the outcome. The ability of the Bethany crew is appreciated. Any team that is comprised of such men as Hamill and Beckwith is to be feared. In addition to this pair Westminster must guard Markley, sensational Bethany forward, who registered the leather seven times against Geneva.

Lawther is uncertain as to his starting line-up. Crowell of Sharon will play his regular forward position, Gamble of Sharon will be at center, with Ayres of Canonsburg at a guard. If Lewis is unable to start Lawther will use either McQuiston of Cochranton or McClintock, a local lad. "Tubby" McCullough of Butler is ready for use in place of Conners.

The contest will be preceded by a game between the Westminster Reserves and New Wilmington High. The big game will get under way at eight o'clock.

Two New Castle Boys Will Race

In a racing meet to be held in Evans City Wednesday, Jan. 26, two New Castle boys will be among the contestants. They are Perry Hetrick and Lynn Irwin. The rest of those taking part in this contest of speed are: Charles Mickey, Brackenridge, William Hobeck, Tarentum; "Art" McCord, Evans City; "Art" Sharp, Brackenridge; George McWithey, Evans City; Lester Shoup, Brackenridge; Nellie Tiel, Evans City, and Esther Campbell, Tarentum.

Free Bird, Fish And Game Picture

Sportsmen's Association Will Display Free Movies January 27

L. W. McClung, secretary of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association, today announced that the association will present a free motion picture showing channel bass fishing off the Virginia coast, salmon fishing in New Brunswick, turkey hunting in Maryland and a bear, deer and moose hunt in Canada. The picture will be shown on Thursday evening, Jan. 27, at the Carnegie auditorium.

Shamrocks Down Polish Reserves

The Shamrocks defeated the Polish Falcon Reserves by a score of 38 to 17 in a game played on the Falcon court on Friday night.

The Shamrcks went into the lead in the first few minutes of play and set a fast pace throughout the remainder of time.

Kearns, Rush and Tyrell led the scoring for the Shamrocks, while J. Mehalic and Gonda were the best for the Falcons.

The lineup and summary:

| Shamrocks—38. | | Reserves—17. |
|---|---|---|
| Kearns | F | J. Mehalic |
| Rush | F | E. Burke |
| Sheriden | C | Gonda |
| Burns | G | Dudek |
| Tyrell | G | Johnson |

Subs: E. Burns, McCormick; P. McCormick, Pezenny.

Field goals: Kearns 6, Rush 4, Tyrell 4, Sheriden 2, R. Burns, J. Mehalic 3, Gonda 2. Burke.

Fouls: Shamrocks 4 out of 8; Falcons 5 out of 13.

Star of "Golden Tornado" Team Gets Chance to Star in Majors

Dave "Red" Barron, one of the outstanding stars of Georgia Tech's "Golden Tornado" eleven a few years ago, will be given a tryout by the Boston Braves this spring as an outfielder. He is a 10-second man and has played minor league ball two years—with Jackson in the Cotton States League, Charleston of the Sally League and Providence of the Eastern League.

McLaughry May Go To Northwestern

Report From Inner Circle Of Grid Game Slates Him For Post

Will Fill Vacancy Caused By Thistlewaite's Resignation

By ED FRITZ

Chester L. Smith of the Gazette Times today says that a report from the inner circles of football has slated Tus McLaughry, former Wesminster grid star, coach and later a sensation at Amherst and Brown, to become head coach of Northwestern to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of Glenn Thistlewaite to Wisconsin.

The Purple has been searching for someone to fill Glenn's shoes since he signed his name to the Wisconsin contract and since his departure there has been little joy in the heart of Northwestern.

According to Smith's story, McLaughry has already been approached by Purple authorities and it is reported that he is ready to sign a contract just as soon as he can satisfy Brown officials.

LABARBA WINS EASILY

True to prediction Fidel LaBarba had no trouble winning from Elky Clark, the British flyweight, last night in 12 rounds at New York. Fidel floored the Scotchman five times but Elky managed to last the limit. The only thing Clark displayed was gameness. He was near a knockout in the third round when he was apparently out cold when the bell rang and he was carried to his corner and revived. He was knocked down twice more after the third.

MOORE SUES LAWYER

Rogers Hornsby is being sued for $15,000 by Frank J. Quinn, an attorney whom Hornsby is said to have hired to defend him in 1923 when club owners suspected Rogers had been incited to acts of insubordination by John McGraw, manager of the Giants, so the McGraw clan could get him. This adds one more link to the troubles of the man who led the Cardinals to the world's baseball title.

BASEBALL BATTLE LOOMS

Col. Jake Ruppert is declared to be the "key man" in the Landis-Johnson battle scheduled to start tomorrow and end Monday in Chicago. It was Ruppert who brought Johnson and Landis together at the annual meeting of major league club owners last month. It is reported that Ruppert will have plenty to say regarding the American league's future course at the hearing Monday. Two years ago Jake told his colleagues that "If Johnson is forced out I will close the Yankee stadium and toss it into the Harlem river." There is a possibility, however, that Johnson will resign.

Methodists And Hearts Win In Church Games

The First Methodist team retained their position as leaders in the City Church League on Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. court by downing the Croton quintet, 41 to 10. The Sacred Hearts nosed out the Jewish Imperials by a score of 26 to 24 in the second game.

The Methodists ran wild against the more inexperienced Crotonites and piled up a lead of 25 to 3 at the first half. The Methodists scored a total of 15 baskets for the evening and held the Croton team to a pair of field markers. S. Lockley, Offutt and C. Hoover were the best for the Methodists, with Allen and West the luminaries for the losers.

In the second game the Sacred Hearts barely managed to get to the wire ahead of the Jewish Imperials. The final count was 26 to 24. The Hearts maintained a slight lead throughout the game. At half time the score favored the Hearts 9 to 7.

Saul and Rogovin were the big guns for the Imperials with Venditto, Marcella and DiThomas the outstanding players for the Sacred Hearts.

Tonight the Central Christians will play the First Baptist team in the Church League. The game will start at seven o'clock.

The line-ups and summaries:

First Game

| Methodists 41 | | Croton 10 |
|---|---|---|
| S. Lockley | F | West |
| Baker | F | Allen |
| Offutt | C | Twaddle |
| R. Brooks | G | Knerman |
| L. Lockley | G | McCreary |

Subs.: McIvor, C. Hoover, Perdue, Ruby, McClelland, Benninghoff.

Field goals: S. Lockley 4, Baker 2, C. Hoover 2, Offutt 3, Perdue, Ruby, R. Brooks, L. Lockley 2, West, Allen.

Fouls: Methodists, 11 out of 19; Croton, 6 out of 16.

Referee: Frazier.

Second Game

| Imperials 24 | | S. Hearts 26 |
|---|---|---|
| P. Levine | F | Venditto |
| Saul | F | Banjo |
| Davids | C | Maielli |
| Rogovin | G | DiThomas |
| Zieve | G | Ross |

Subs.: Marcella, Ross, A. Plant.

Field goals: P. Levine, A. Plant, Saul 3, Rogovin 2, Zieve 2, Venditto 3, Banjo, Marcella 2, Maielli DiThomas.

Fouls: Imperials, 6 out of 12; Hearts, 10 out of 13.

Referee: Frazier.

Mahoning Team Takes Berth In Industrial Loop

Mahoning A. A. Quintet To Replace P. & L. E. Team In City League

The Mahoning A. A. managed by Louis "Pick" Glitch will take over the franchise of the P. & L. E. railroad team in the City Industrial league for the remainder of the season it was announced today by Walter E. Kirker, secretary of the loop.

The Mahoning team will present a fast combination composed of the following well known floor luminaries: Huff, Cresswell, Gilmore, Fulkerson, Boone, Blythe, Reed and Swinehart.

Boone and Blythe of the Wampum Indies need no introduction to the local fans who have seen them in action. This pair will do much to strengthen the City league. The competition from now on should be a lot better. "Walt" Fulkerson the fastest floor player in this city will also add strength to the Seventh ward outfit. Huff, Gilmore, Reed, Swinehart and Cresswell are original members of the Mahoningtown team.

The Mahoning team will make their debut in the league on Saturday, January 29 by playing the P. R. R. team.

Ben Franklin Varsity Girls Are Winners

Have Comparatively Easy Time Defeating Mahoningtown Girls

Ben Franklin Girls Varsity basketball team won a rather easy victory over the Mahoningtown Junior high school girls on Friday January 21, the final score being 56-9 in favor of the Franklin girls.

The game was played at 3:45 o'clock and was witnessed by quite a number of the interested students of the schools. The score was 19-5 in favor of the Franklin girls at the end of the first half and the final score was 56-9. The Franklin girls won last year by the score of 53-8. The outstanding players were the Misses Hill, Perry, Jones, Bogdon, Parker and Carson.

Although outclassed the Mahoningtown girls fought gamely and did not give up until the last minue of play. The coach is Miss Maude Wetmore while the Franklin coach is Miss Vera Rummel. Miss Pauline Gilkey acted as referee of the contest.

The summary follows:

| B. Franklin—56 | | Mahoningtown—9 |
|---|---|---|
| Perry | F | Veigil |
| Carson | C | Hutton |
| Hill | S C | E. Stickle |
| Parker | G | Taylor |
| Bogdon | G | Smith |

Subs: Orlando, Smith, Pieora, Bodendorfer, Clark, Gibson, Kaufman and Douthett.

Field goals: Ben Franklin, Perry 15; Jones 12, Kaufman 1. Douthett 2; Mahoningtown, Veigil 3, Stickle 1.

"Good will" flyers are those who show others how easy it would be to bomb them in case of ill will.

Many Seek Job As Ring Solon

Fisher Considers Wiener And Farrell For Commission Jobs

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO MAKE STATEMENT

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 22. — Applications for appointment to one of the two apparent vacancies on the State Athletic Commission continued to flood the Governor's office today. The Governor himself caught in the deluge of recommendations and claims, made it clear that before making any definite move he would have to learn more of the background of the claims that are being put before him.

His action is recalling from the senate the nominations forwarded by Governor Pinchot on two appointments made during the recess of the legislature started the many cornered fight for a berth on the commission.

The names of Frank Wiener, Philadelphia, the present chairman, and Harry T. Farrell, Nanticoke, both were recalled.

Friends of the two men immediately got into action asking that the names be resubmitted. The present board has functioned without ony of the private and public controversies which marked that body following its creation. But the Governor's move gave indication of the possibility of two new appointments.

Two Members Quit

Wiener conferred with the Governor yesterday but neither would say anything definite about the future. At the same time friends of Farrell were active to secure his retention.

The history of the commission has been marked by considerable internal and external strife. William A. Rocap, Philadelphia, the former chairman and Charles Fred White, Philadelphia, a negro member were involved in a series of controversies. Both resigned under pressure.

Former Governor Pinchot hinted rather broadly at one time that the Athletic Commission caused executive trouble out of proportion to its importance and that he would have been glad if supreme authority for it was lodged in other hands.

The act creating the commission in 1923 provided that all surplus funds up to $300,000 should be devoted to the erection of monuments in France and Belgium. The last balance of the commission showed $202,824.

Drink Less, Eat More Candy

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—The Germans are drinking less, but are eating more candy to make up for it.

This is revealed in the latest statistics regarding German consumption published by the Dawes commission, which watches that closely because taxes, and therewith its revenues, depend on it.

Every German now consumes forty-one pounds of sugar a year, as against only thirty-eight before the war.

But he drinks only seventy-one liters of beer, as against 102 liters before the war.

And he drinks only 1.1 liters of brandy as against 2.8 liters before the war—a decrease of 57 per cent.

Triangle Team Again Victors

Basketball Games Friday Evening On Y. W. C. A. Floor

Friday evening the Blue Triangle team of the Y. W., added another victory to their list, defeating the Evans City Independents in an exceptionally fine and fast game. Miss Rech starred for the Triangles and Miss Glenn of the Independents always made a basket when she got the ball. Miss Frances Smith, Triangle side center, played a very excellent game. The final score was 36 to 31.

The preliminary game was between the Elm street Y. W., Girl Reserves and Business College team. The Reserves defeating the Business College Girls 24 to 21.

The lineups:

Negro Slayer Is Sentenced To Insane Asylum

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 22.—The records of justice closed today on the case of Beulah Purvis, 19-year-old Lawrenceburg, Ind., "cotton stockinged" farm girl whose partially clothed body was found crushed and broken, in the Big Miami River near here last October.

Joseph Carr, negro, who confessed that he attacked and then murdered the girl, today was waiting to be taken to the state hospital for criminal insane at Lima, O.

That was the verdict here late yesterday of a petit jury which heard his case, and which acted upon the recommendations of the court and the original grand jury.

The negro will probably be taken to the Lima institution today, it was said.

West Virginia Not Interested In Evolution

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 22. —West Virginia will have none of Tennessee's anti-evolution laws, at least not before the next session of the legislature two years hence, it became apparent today.

The house of delegates squelched the attempt of Delegate Street, of Barbour county, to have enacted measures similar to those around which the famous Scopes anti-evolution trial centered, defeating it by an overwhelming vote.

GLORIFYING THE SPANISH SENORITA — BY FEG MURRAY

This will serve to introduce to you a young lady who is, many claim, the greatest amateur woman tennis player in the world. That statement will be a surprise to those thousands of tennis fans who thought that our own Helen Wills assumed that title automatically when Suzanne Lenglen turned professional. It will also surprise many who believe that Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree, Wimbledon champion, holds that enviable position.

Even though Senorita Lili de Alvarez may be outranked by both Kitty of England and Helen of America as a tennis player, nevertheless she is second to no one in grace, beauty, and versatility. The following adjectives are always used in describing the lovely senorita, so we might as well get them over with and then go on to tell about her tennis and other accomplishments: "electrifying, charming, attractive, talented, entertaining, gifted, bewitching, supremely decorative," etc. etc. It seems that Lili is what the boys call a knock-out and that she would bat 1,000 in any beauty contest.

One needs merely to state that she beat our present national champion, Mrs. Mallory, 6-2, 6-2, without even taking off her coat to show how good a tennis player she is. That was in the semi-finals of the 1926 Wimbledon championships, and it may be said quite truthfully that with Helen Wills, LaCoste, Tilden and Johnston, all missing from the competition, and Suzanne defaulting during the play, Lili de Alvarez saved the great English Jubilee tournament from being a frazzle. The senorita was beaten by Mrs. Godfree in the finals, and previously lost to Helen Wills on the Riviera, but, as she herself admits, she has her good and her bad days, and when she is bad she is awful.

So much for her tennis, except to add that she is as fast as the great Lenglen herself—or faster—and that aesthetically her tennis is equally perfect. She is like Suzanne, vividly alive on the courts, has a fine command of the strokes, and, best of all, she seems to take the greatest of pleasure in playing the game, whether she wins or loses. She has temperament—surely, but, thank God, not too much!

Tennis, however, is not this senorita's only interest in life. Even now she is at St. Moritz in Switzerland, where fancy skating and skiing are her hobbies. She is a champion at both too, and no doubt they help her tennis. Auto driving —she has her own racing car—, riding, golf (handicap 8), billiards, chess, and ping pong are other side lines of this 21-year-old star. She enjoys them all and does them all well. Tennis will never be her one and only love.

Let's hope she'll pay America a visit in 1927!

Feg Murray says—Was it the newest Parisian tennis sensation that made Bill Tilden decide not to mix up his Coat d' Azur with a French Landry?

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Baseball is passing through the most critical period in its history. Everyone who has followed the game for years realizes that.

This is the first time in the game's history that the powers of the game—the men who have vast fortunes invested in the sport—actually find the game totering about their heals—with at least one of their number apparently determined to wreck the sport if necessary to carry through a personal hatred of one of the games leaders.

I hold no sympathy for these leaders. They have brought it on themselves. This after the game apparently had weathered a severe blow in the publication of the Leonard charges, etc.

But I do feel at this time that there are hundreds of thousands of dyed-in-the-wool baseball fans who regret the present situation because of their sincere love—with ulterior motives—for the game. And I say to them that the sport of baseball won't be lost if the men now in charge of the major league teams permit the greatest organizations in the game to be wrecked.

Baseball will simply struggle up through the muck eventually and thrive again—on new faith.

As a matter of fact while the game's history has been marred at times with charges and concrete evidence of "throwing" games, gambling and other dishonest acts these indiscretions and black pages in the game's annals of the sport are few and far between.

The game has been going on for 51 years. Estimate the number of players who have come and gone in the various big league organizations in that time. Probably many thousands. And of this number less than 50 players have been openly charged with dishonest methods and disciplined accordingly. The number of lesser cases disposed of quietly in the same time will not run that high.

This is a remarkable record if one considers all angles for a moment.

Each year the major leagues go into the various parts of the country and acquire new players. True the scouts and club officials may inquire into the general character of the men but this investigation must be superficial unless one wishes to put the player prospect through an out and out investigation.

These men come up from small cities and jobs with meager salaries to the bigger cities, more commensurate pay and the opportunities of every kind these changes mean.

There probably isn't a business in the world employing the same number of men and meeting with the same yearly turnover that finds less "boring from within" or more undesired members in a given time.

And baseball is a business.

The magnates may wish themselves out of the incomes they have been deriving for years. They may spoil the game for the players in it now—receiving luscious salaries. They may break up basebal as one of the big businesses of the country. But they wont kill the desires of the boys and men who still like to play the game themselves. And it is from the ranks of these that the fans come—and will continue to come.

If these fans turn to the minors and the sandlots for their sport it is hard luck for Landis, Johnson and the club owners of the sixteen big league clubs.

Let 'em wory.

Union High Loses To Mercer Five

Scotland Lane Lads Put Up Good Battle On Mercer Floor

Union High School's basket ball squad journeyed to Mercer to play the Mercer High five last night on the Kimberly gym, and lost the game 39 to 19 after four quarters of hard fought play.

Mercer started the game with a bang when they annexed 13 points before the Union team could effectively form a defense. Broadbent, the Mercer County forward was the strongest player for his team during this quarter as well as throughout the other periods in which he played. Coach Burnham had Schieck and Funkhouser, his two guards, playing a stationary guarding game, but these lads seemed unable to keep the Mercer men from scoring at will when the ball was in the dangerous territory. Hughes and Gibson were strong for Union in this quarter.

Union was able to score only one point during the first quarter when Hughes placed a foul.

During the second quarter Hughes, the tall center for the local team, made the most spectacular basket of the game when he sunk one from the side of the floor, tossing the ball over his head in a one handed shot. Although the shot was lucky, Hughes received the applause of all present. A few minutes later Gibson, another of the invading players put Mercer on edge when he edged the ball through the hoop after dribbling through most of the Mercer County team to an open shot from under the basket. Four points were taken by the locals in this quarter while the Mercer boys obtained 15.

By the beginning of the third quarter, a second team was on the floor for Mercer, these lads showing up as well as the regulars for a short time, until Union began playing a fine brand of basketball with guarding and shooting giving them the lead in scoring for this quarter, they making 8 while their opponents obtained 4.

Using many substitutions Mercer was unable to keep up with Union in scoring until well into the last quarter. The first team played the last half of this period, while Union made only one change, Crispy entering the game, and obtaining a field goal on the first center play.

Union scored 15 of their 19 in the last half of the game, out-scoring Mercer who obtained only 13 markers during this period.

For the locals Keeler and Hughes played the best brand of ball while Broadbent and Stove were the stars for Mercer's five.

The lineup and summary:

| Mercer 39 | | Union 19 |
|---|---|---|
| Blatt | F | Gibson |
| Broadbent | F | Keeler |
| Rhodes | C | Hughes |
| Vath | G | Schieck |
| Stove | G | Funkhouser |

Subs—Union: Carr, Crispy. Mercer: Swickar, Masson, Bone, Black, Ringer, Byers, Lewis, Francisco, Zahnizer.

Field goals—Broadbent 6, Stove 4, Bone Gibson 3, Keeler, Hughes, Rhodes 2, Blatt, Byers, Crispy 1.

Fouls—Union, 4 out of 13, Mercer 6 out of 16.

Referee—Allen.

Two Men Killed, Bodies Are Found On Railroad Tracks

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 22. — While taking a Pennsylvania railroad freight train west during the night, Engineer R. F. Armstrong, Altoona, discovered the bodies of Eli Strayer, 45, trapper and hunter of Ducansville, and Leo Rhodes, 47, of Newry, on the tracks of the New Portage cut-off near Ducansville.

It is believed the men were killed by three light engines coming down the mountain an hour before Armstrong's train passed.

File Protest On Freight Rates

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Jan. 22.—In behalf of bituminous coal operators in central Pennsylvania, the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association, through A. G. Gutheim, of Washington, Walker D. Hines, New York, and A. M. Liveright, of Clearfield, Pa., counsel, has filed a brief with the interstate commerce commission adding the association's protest to those of other interests in the eastern bituminous district seeking downward revision of coal freight rates to eastern waterways, Charles O'Neill, secretary of the association, revealed today. Associated with the group in its appeal is the Somerset County Coal Operators' Association.

The brief reviews the hearings conducted by the interstate commerce commission in this district intermittently since 1923 and cites figures in support of its contention that allegedly discriminatory freight rates favorable to southern West Virginia producers at the expense of central Pennsylvania industries have contributed materially to the growth of Hampton Roads, Va., as a point of coal export over New York—the latter used by Pennsylvania shippers, the former by the southern interests.

New Beauty and Comfort in This Improved Six Sedan

Beauty extends in an unbroken line on this newer Hupmobile Six Sedan from the slimly graceful radiator to the rounded contour of the ball-back body.

A car now as outstanding for luxury and refinement of detail as for the stauncher qualities and long life for which all Hupmobiles are famous.

Note the commodious provision for five passengers, the four wide doors, the depth of the rich mohair upholstery, the high quality of hardware including remote door controls, and the unusually complete equipment.

And beauty of line and appointment is just the beginning. What makes Hupmobile the closest-priced six in America is its 10 per cent higher quality. Throughout the car, Hupmobile spends 10 per cent more to make this six a better and a longer-lived car.

Yet you actually pay less in price for the Hupmobile Six, in proportion to quality; and you pay less in after costs, because of that quality.

Drive this smart Sedan for half an hour, and then try to think of any other six in terms of what this six reveals.

The more you know about sixes, the more emphatically you will class Hupmobile value alone and unapproached in the entire six market.

About This Time of Year

Just about this time of year when the first winter thaw comes and the ground hog begins to get itchy in his hole in the ground and wants to take a peep at the great outdoors again, there's a feeling comes over those who are chicken fanciers—and we mean those who fancy the feathered variety of blooded poultry. And we don't blame them a bit. Who doesn't fancy a nice fat hen, especially when it is the centerpiece of a dining room table or the producer of fine, large and ripe eggs.

Now the reason for this is that those people who sell day old chicks or eggs for hatching are getting ready for business. The best way to do business of this kind is not to keep the fact that you are selling day old chicks or taking orders for hatching eggs a secret, but tell the world about it.

The best way to tell the world about it—especially that part of the world which buys the 17,000 daily copies of The New Castle News is to put an ad in the News Want Columns. Placed under "Pet Stock and Poultry" heading all the world will know about it.

Advertise your chickens and eggs now and your spring business will be good.

Burnside's Operations In North Carolina.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

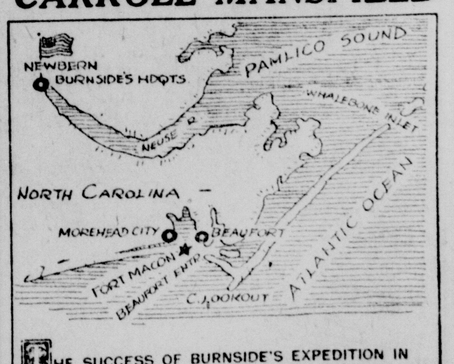

HAVING CAPTURED ROANOKE ISLAND, GENERAL BURNSIDE SENT STRONG EXPEDITIONS AGAINST STRATEGIC POINTS HELD BY THE CONFEDERATES ON ALBEMARLE SOUND. EDENTON, PLYMOUTH AND ELIZABETH CITY. IMPORTANT NORTH CAROLINA TOWNS, FELL INTO HIS HANDS DURING FEBRUARY, 1862. AFTER WHICH HE BENT HIS EFFORTS TO ESTABLISHING A FOOTHOLD SOUTH OF PAMLIGO SOUND FOR THE FEDERAL FORCES.

ON MARCH 14, 1862, BURNSIDE ATTACKED NEW BERN ON THE NEUSE RIVER AND, AFTER A HOTLY CONTESTED BATTLE, DEFEATED THE DEFENDING FORCE UNDER GEN. BRANCH AND CAPTURED THE CITY. BURNSIDE MADE THIS PLACE HIS HEADQUARTERS FROM WHICH OTHER EXPEDITIONS WERE SENT OUT TO EXTEND UNION CONTROL ALONG THE COAST OF NORTH CAROLINA.

THE CONFEDERATES STILL HELD FORT MACON, WHICH CONTROLLED THE SOUTHERN ENTRANCE TO THE NORTH CAROLINA SOUNDS. IN THE LATTER PART OF MARCH, THE FEDERALS OCCUPIED MOREHEAD CITY AND BEAUFORT (N. C.), AND FROM THESE VANTAGE POINTS MADE PREPARATIONS TO LAY SIEGE TO FORT MACON.

THE SUCCESS OF BURNSIDE'S EXPEDITION IN NORTH CAROLINA GAVE THE UNION ANOTHER HOLD UPON THE ATLANTIC COAST OF THE CONFEDERACY. AT THIS TIME THE FEDERALS WERE FIRMLY ESTABLISHED AT HILTON HEAD (PORT ROYAL), S. C., AND ON TYBEE ISLAND, GEORGIA, AT THE MOUTH OF THE SAVANNAH.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The "merger rails" held the center of the stage in the short session o fthe stock market today. Reports that the Van Sweringene of Cleveland were seeking stock control of the Western Maryland Wheeling and Lake Erie, and Pittsburgh and West Virginia roads for the purpose of amalgamating them in their greater Nickel Plate system stirred up unusual speculative interest in the stocks of these roads, which jumped into the limelight with heavy sales at advancing prices.

In addition to their merger possibilities, these roads have gradually acquired a more substantial financial standing because of their increases in net earning in the last two or three years. Wheeling and Lake Erie earned more than $5 a share last year and Western Maryland will report the best year since the end of the war.

Western Maryland common quickly mounted to 26¼ at the beginning of trading today, up 4 points, while the second preferred rose 2 points to 32⅞. Wheeling and Lake Erie common sold at 44 up 2⅛; preferred at 64, against yesterday's low at 59.

Industrial stocks and specialties were brushed aside in the final period to make room for the aggressive upward movement of the railroad stocks The market for the rails broadened considerably in this period, to include the Nickel Plate stocks and various investment rails of the type of New York Central and Atchison. The motor stocks and high priced specialties were reactionary, Cast Iron Pipe selling at 209, against yesterday's high price of 218.

Rossiter Withdraws From Senate Race

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—Samuel Y. Rositer, Erie attorney today formally notified the state board of elections of his withdrawal from the special election to be held in Erie on February 1 to fill the vacant seat in the state senate of the late Marvin E. Grisworld. Rossiter had filed his nomination petition apparently with the endorsement of both the Democratic and Republican county committees.

With Rossiter out of the race two candidates names will go on the ballots which will be printed by the state board and sent to Erie. They are Laverne H. Raymond, independent, and Miles B. Kitts, Peoples' party.

Our own prophecy: 1927 will be a prosperous year for most of those who kept three cars in 1926.

Weekly Review Of Market Conditions

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Leadership in the stock market this week was furnished by the railroad stocks. Aside from the spectacular forward movements of Lehigh Valley and Reading, the rail list furnished a series of aggressive rallies based upon the improved financial situation of the roads as a whole, as well as the prospects for the consummation of a number of important rail mergers.

Conferences looking to the amalgamation of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railroads into a gigantic system that would top even the projected Nickle Plate system in capitalization and transportation facilities were inaugurated in this city this week. Stocks of roads with merger possibilities presented an unusually active appearance in the listed stock market, while rumors flew thick and fast that the big interests in New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Delaware and Hudson and other important systems were competing on the floor of the stock exchange for sufficient stock to give them a commanding choice in the conduct of certain roads.

The outstanding feature of the world-wide financial market is the ease in the money situation. Within the last few weeks no less than six of the European state banks have announced lower discount rates, which is generally accepted as an evidence of progress of their respective countries have made in the direction of normal economic conditions and the fact that they are able to handle their own financial affairs better than a year or so ago.

No changes were made this week in the rediscount rates of the Federal Reserve banks but the market was of the opinion that such a move will be taken shortly. It is expected that the Bank of England will take the initiative in this matter and that the New York Reserve bank will set the pace for the American institutions. Meanwhile the weekly statement of the Reserve banks shows an increase from 75.4 to 76.9 per cent in the ratio of reserves to resources in the Reserve system as a whole and from 81.9 to 83.4 in the new reserves of the New York bank.

For activity and aggressive action, the bond market again occupied the center of the stage, though a number of the bullish pools in the industrials and specialties whipped up the prices of their favorites in an effort to attract a public following. The oils participated in the forward move a little more vigorously than in the two or three preceding periods, with the Standards Oils and a few of the best known independents selling at the highest prices on the current move.

Some accessions to the ranks of investment buyers of high grade paying stocks were reported this week, and buying from this quarter absorbed a good volume of the offerings of the professionals as well as the profit-taking sales of the outside traders. There was a notable increase in the volume of odd-lot selling of the active stocks, for which special facilities were recently created by the stock exchange governors.

The commodity markets were generally steady and the foreign exchanges firm. A good demand was in evidence for textile goods and raw cotton, in which the latest consumption reports are very favorable. The grain markets were quiet, as also were the rubber, copper and oil markets. Sugar was firm and the outlook favorable.

Coolidge Cool On Senate Plan

Senate Will Pass Measure For Arbitration Of Nicaragua Troubles

CONTROVERSY DUE FOR MARKING TIME

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Arbitration of the Mexican land law controversy faded somewhat into the background today, despite indications that the senate on Monday will pass the Robinson resolution declaring it to be the sense of that body that the dispute be arbitrated.

President Coolidge left no doubt that he is cool to the proposal, although it is considered doubtful if the administration will interpose any serious objections to the adoption of the Robinson resolution. Opponents of the administration's Mexican policy believe the senate would adopt it even in the face of white house disapproval, for the Democrats and Insurgents, who have shown they can control the senate on any given question, are preponderantly behind it.

The renewed emphasis of Mr. Coolidge's view that the Cruix of the whole controversy is "shall American property be confiscated without being paid for" was not construed today as indicating any favorable drift toward mediation.

The belief genrally prevailed her today that unless some untoward event occurs the controversy is in for a period of marking time. The new laws did not become operative in their entirety until yesterday and it is the evident policy of the administration to await the outcome of a concrete case in the Mexican courts before resorting to further negotiations or a drastic policy.

The present session of congress is due to end in six weeks. Both President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg are understood to view the passing of congress from the scene without any great regrets for administration officials are bitter over congressional "meddling" in the Mexican situation.

Temple Building To Have Fastest Elevator In City

Big Building To Be Ready For Occupancy About First Of April

Installation of the elevator is nearly completed in the new Temple building on North street. It will be the fastest in the city of New Castle, having a speed of 275 feet per minute according to the architect, J. A. Altschuler. The fastest elevator at present is the one in the Greer building which has a speed of 250 feet per minute.

The new building is being rushed to completion, two-thirds of the plastering being completed. It is assured that the building will be ready for occupancy by April 1.

The Temple building will consist of 4 store rooms on the first floor and 60 suites of office rooms, every one of which has outside lights. The building is being rapidly let.

The owners of the building, Chas. J. Streib, L. Haug, Jr., and R. M. McKenzie have provided an open space in the back of the building which will be available for parking space for about 40 autos of tenants of the building.

There are various concerns that have had part in the erecting of the building. L. A. Haug is the general contractor; the structural steel to the amount of 100 tons was furnished and directed by the Flemming Manufacturing company of New Castle. The plastering was done by Forbes and Haven; the electrical work by the Marvin Electric company; the Gilfillan Heating & Plumbing company have furnished the building with the heating system and the plumbing; the roof was placed by Hoover and Newall; the glazing and painting is being done by Fred March.

"Dopesters" Look Upon McAdoo As Ready To Put Up Strenuous Fight

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—Wm. Gibbs McAdoo as a third party candidate next year is an idea which is just beginning to dawn on Washington.

Politicians had just about settled it in their own minds that McAdoo was eliminated as a Democratic presidential possibility. They reckoned that he might make a lot of trouble for other aspirants at the Democrats 1928 convention but they were generally of the opinion that he stood no chance on his own account.

Yet, here he is just starting on a tour of the south, here are his supporters beginning to give out statements and here he is about to open headquarters and a speakers bureau in the capital.

The noticeable thing is that his friends hardly mention him as a likely nominee on the regular Democratic ticket but they do talk a lot about him as the standard bearer of a prospective independent Democratic faction if the regulars make a choice not to his liking.

* * *

Everybody knows that the Democratic party is split as badly as the Republican party is split but it hasn't been split, out-and-out, into two separate tickets since 1900 when the old bugs bolted William Jennings Bryan's free silver nomination.

Republican secessions are more recently familiar—as Robert M. La Folette's, no longer ago than 1924 and Col. Roosevelt's in 1912.

So this threatened McAdoo bolt if it materializes will be the first one within the memory of a majority of the present generation of Democratic voters and it's any body's guess how they'll act about it.

* * *

McAdoo so they say, is ambitious to become a second Bryan.

No doubt he's willing to go Bryan one better and be elected to something but even if he can't accomplish that the gossip is that he wants to be so big a man in the Democratic party that nobody else can do anything with it unless he says so.

This is an outlook the dopesters down at the Capitol hadn't thought of before and it's set 'em to speculating.

* * *

First off, it may appear that the problem solves itself very easily—

If the Republicans are united and the Democrats split the natural inference is that the former will win hands down.

But will the Republicans be united?

They weren't at the last national election. To be sure, the Progressives were pretty badly beaten, which may be supposed to have discouraged them. Yes, but will they be so much discouraged if the Democrats are divided, too, in 1928? Won't they think, maybe?—"Now's our chance" and try it again, harder than ever.

* * *

Suppose it isn't a triangular fight? Suppose it's a quadrangular.

A triangular campaign is hard enough to guess on. A quadruple ular one would be something awful. The pulling would be in every direction.

Imagine four presidential candidates in the field like this, for instance:

Colidge( Al Smith, McAdoo and Borah.

It would take some tall prophesying to tell how a race of that sort would come out. As likely as not the house of representatives would have to settle it.

Build New Block At Grove City

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—Tearing down of the frame building on the Broad street site owned by John Marguglion to replace it with a modern brick structure of two stories started today.

The frame building is that occupied by the Stewart Radio and Battery Shop, which has moved across the street to the J. C. Fisher room. The Bohlender Brothers have the contract for the erection of the new structure, which will front 60 feet on Broad street. It is the intention of Marguglio to open a modern confectionery shop on the street floor, using the second floor as his home. Marguglio recently sold his cobbler's shop which he had operated here for 20 years. The price on the building is not announced.

ABE MARTIN On Negligence

AIMIN' T' DO A THING AN' DOIN' IT ARE TWO DIFFERENT THINGS

Tilford Moots has got a screen door that's been leanin' agin th' front o' his house fer eighteen years. He's allus been intendin' t' hang it, or put it out o' th' weather, but he's never jest got around t' doin' anything with it one way or th' tother. We're all th' same way about lots o' things. We all have somethin' we're goin' t' do some day when we find time t' git around t' it, not only th' payment o' some bill, or th' return o' a book or umbreller, but some one o' a thousan' little things. We'll go along fer years dreadin' t' have a doorbell fixed, or a tooth plugged up. We neglect our livers, an' fergit t' return calls an' other things, but we're eternally talkin' about what we're goin' t' do. If Lon Moots had gone after his liver nine or ten years ago when he first talked o' havin' it photergraphed, his friends wouldn't be skiddin' out t' th' cemetery an' back t'day. We're all too fergitfull o' th' little things o' life, things that cost th' least an' mean th' most. Joe Pine wuz allus goin' t' tell his wife how much he thought o' her, what a help she'd been t' him, an' he wuz allus goin' t' do somethin' fer her t' show his love an' gratitude, take her t' a movie or t' her a dinner downtown. But he kept puttin' it off an' puttin' it off till one day she skipped out an' he never did git t' show her any gratitude. When Uncle Henry Purviance died, Ike Soles said, "Pshaw, I wanted t' thank him fer that load o' coal he sent us last winter." But screen doors an' neglected necks 'll show a feller up quicker'n anything else, unless it's a planner settin' out in th' snow. A screen door ought t' be hung or out o' sight, an' too much attention can't be showered on th' neck, 'specially th' back o' th' neck. The' neglect o' th' neck is common t' all classes o' men. In lots o' cases th' blame rests directly on th' wife. A feller can't see th' back o' his neck, an' if he's a man o' affairs, or even a man o' family, he has no time t' think about his neck. An' besides a neck 'll grow shaggy almost over night. Th' back o' th' neck should be closely watched an' kept trimmed an' shaved. At least one day a week should be set aside as neck day. It requires a mighty small part o' a wife's time, jest a glance an' a word or two, t' keep her husband's neck presentable. "Alfred, don't fergit your neck" is enough fer th' ordinary self-respectin' husband, an' can't possibly work a hardship on any woman. Besides, a wife owes it t' her children, t' her very neighborhood, t' say nothin' o' th' husband, himself, t' watch th' back o' his neck, an' not allow it t' go t' seed.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

An attractive way to serve a vegetable dinner is described below. When a diet of vegetables is prescribed or preferred many housewives feel at a loss as to what to cook and how to serve it. Vegetables are colorful and lend themselves to attractive grouping. The housewife can exercise her ingenuity and artistic sense in combining the vegetables available on the market. The ingredients must be well cooked and seasoned.

Vegetable Plate—Asparagus, Peas, Carrots, Turnips, Beets Potatoes Parsley
Deviled Egg Salad
Date Pudding Milk

TODAY'S RECIPES

Vegetable Plate — On a large chop plate arrange hot buttered asparagus tips so as to divide the plate into quarters. In one section put hot buttered peas; in another hot buttered diced carrots; in the third hot buttered diced turnips; in the fourth hot buttered diced beets, and in the middle heap well seasoned mashed potatoes. Garnish with parsley.

Date Pudding—One cup sugar, two eggs (beaten light), one tablespoon flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one cup walnut meats, one cup dates cut fine. Bake slowly in a sheet twenty minutes. Serve with whipped cream or pudding sauce.

SUGGESTIONS

Setting the Table

For luncheon, if the bare table is used, lay the correct number of plate doilies at equal distances around the table and place on each doily a service plate. The silver is then arranged the same as for other meals, the knives, spoons and silver needed for the first course at the right, forks at the left—never laying more than three—if more is needed, place them when required. However, the oyster or cocktail fork is placed at the right of the knives—on the outer edge.

There is some disagreement about the placing of the napkin. It really belongs at the left of the forks. Placing it at either side of the silverware, however, may confuse the places. Napkins are therefore often placed in the center of each service plate. If you are a guest remember that your napkin is at the left of your silver. The salad is always placed at the left also.

Support Petition Of Patterson For New Bus Route

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—While Bessemer passenger officials are considering the question of improving the train service of their railroad out of here into Pittsburgh, the Public Service Commission of the state has also for their consideration a petition of Norman D. Patterson that will put in service a bus line between here and that city.

A group of 20 Grove City citizens, those of Harrisville and Slippery Rock and Portersville, appeared in support of the Patterson petition at the Wednesday afternoon hearing before the commission in Pittsburgh.

The plan of Patterson, who now operates a line between here and New Castle, would be to cut off that route at Harlansburg, running his busses into the city via. Zelienople, Harmony, Portersville. Parts of this route are now concreted and the remainder is certain to be improved, as the routing is the Perry Highway right-of-way, of which improvement there has been talk for years and will come to relieve the present congested condition out of Pittsburgh over the present Erie-Pittsburgh road via. Butler. Patterson would operate his new line on a through basis, not conflicting with the present transportation services in effect.

Dear Sisters:—

State Motor Patrol Makes 749 Arrests During December

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 22.—Activities of the state highway motor patrol in December resulted in 749 arrests for violations of the motor vehicle laws, the State Department of Highways announced today. During the month fines totaling $10,324 were imposed, of which $2,925 is returnable to local authorities and the remainder to the state treasury.

Of the arrests, 212 were for reckless driving, 144 for violations of the lighting provisions of the law and the balance for other violations. The largest amount of fines, $857, was reported from Blair county. Montgomery reported $640; Schuylkill, $620 and Fayette $595.

WATCH YOUR WAISTLINE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—United States army officers must look to their waistlines in the future for the annual tests of physical fitness for the officers on Governor's island and other military posts will include the measuring of girths. The tests are intended to gauge the year's gains in shoulder width among the younger men and increases in waistline among the old ones.

MORE DOGS IN MERCER COUNTY

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 22.—The record set in 1926 by the writing of 5,800 dog licenses during the month of January will be eclipsed by the record of 1927, is the opinion of County Treasurer Malcolm Simons.

To date a total of 5,200 have already been written and sent out. The daily arrival of mail at this office containing applications is of interest. An average of 300 letters a day are sent the official. Such is the number out of some of the county towns that the letters are made up in one bundle for the county treasurer.

Every boy passes through a period when he thinks he understands women and wishes to be considered a sad and embittered man.

Seek Better Service Out Of Grove City

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 22.—While the officials of the Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad Company promise an investigation of the train service of the company out of here, with the idea of improving it, very little hope is held forth to the residents of the community of putting on additional trains.

E. D. Comstock, passenger agent of the road, was visited by a committee of the Commercial Club at his Pittsburgh office this week, asking that the present train service of the road out of here be improved.

Figures showing that the passenger service of the road was conducted at a loss to the owners were put before the committee members by Mr. Comstock. The fact that the road is the only service line of rail out of here and that train service at present falls short of the needs of the town were impressed on the rail chief by the committee members, who are far from optimistic as to the results of their visit.
